

THE WEATHER

Light or moderate east-south-east winds.
Cloudy or overcast with occasional showers and periods of rain.

LATE FINAL

CHINA

MAIL

Established 1845

No. 37371

MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1959.

Price 20 Cents

FLIGHTS WEEKLY to the U.S.A.

13

8 from TOKYO
5 from MANILA

PAN AMERICAN

Comment Of The Day

FUNDAMENTAL DIFFICULTIES

THE basic assumption in every proposal which the Western Powers have put forward for years past about Germany is simply that the German people shall have the right to choose for themselves, by free democratic process, the form of government under which they wish to live, and that a reunited Germany shall have the same right as any other sovereign people to decide and determine its own external relations.

It could, of course, voluntarily accept obligations or limitations but they must not be imposed. Any attempt to do this, as Mr. Selwyn Lloyd has pointed out, will historically "hold out a most unhappy prospect." These really are fundamental and they are the basic issues between democracy and dictatorship.

Free To Choose

THE Western Powers ask that the German people, both East and West, shall, in one way or another, be free to choose the kind of regime under which they choose to live, but the Soviet Union will not listen to this argument. The Russians insist that any settlement, shall in one way or another, ensure the maintenance and perpetuation of the present Communist regime in East Germany.

They put it in many ways, a favourite one being that "the working class in Eastern Germany must be safeguarded." It might be thought that the Soviet leaders and their German fellow Communists, would have complete confidence that, given the opportunity, the East German workers would vote, with an overwhelming majority, for the party which has secured them these "gains."

But, of course, they know better. They know that, given the opportunity, the East German masses would rid themselves of their present rulers. Therefore the "opportunity" must not be given them. The Communist dictatorship, based in the last analysis, on Soviet armed force, must be preserved at all costs. Therefore a precondition of any settlement must be the denial of democratic rights to the people of the divided country.

Other Issue

THE other issue is essentially the same. Shall a reunited Germany be as free as the democratic countries to choose for itself its own alignment—or non-alignment—in international affairs? The Russians say "No" because it knows what the German choice would be.

The Soviet Union may or may not want a reunited Germany but what it wants is to maintain denial of freedom either internally or externally; it wants to preserve the East German Communist dictatorship internally and impose on all Germany a foreign policy dictated by itself. These then are what Mr. Selwyn Lloyd calls the "fundamental difficulties"—the difficulties which separate East from West and on which there is little likelihood of a settlement.

FOREIGN SECRETARY MAY BECOME LORD CHANCELLOR LLOYD TO GET NEW JOB?

Wave Of Speculation In London

London, May 31. An unexpected new wave of speculation began today that Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, Britain's Foreign Secretary, will before long be switched to another post in the government.

An article in Lord Beaverbrook's Sunday Express by the political commentator Crossbencher suggested that Mr. Lloyd—a lawyer—might before long become Britain's Lord Chancellor, the highest legal office in the government.

SELWYN LLOYD
Rumours Revolve Around Him

European On Traffic Charges

George Bowman Ramago, 44, of 107-A, The Peak, top floor, pleaded not guilty before Mr. I. T. Morris at Central Magistracy this morning to driving a vehicle under the influence of drink and dangerous driving.

The case was adjourned till tomorrow.

It is alleged that on Saturday at 4.50 p.m. defendant committed the offence while driving his car, XX7803 near No. 2 Magazine Gap Road.

He is represented by Mr. I. MacCallum of Wilkinson and Grist.

Defendant was allowed bail of $1,000.

Queen Mother, Margaret To Get Own Press Sec.

London, May 31. Queen Elizabeth, the Queen Mother, and Princess Margaret are to have their own press secretary, a Buckingham Palace spokesman said tonight.

The spokesman added, "The appointment has been under consideration for a considerable time, although no details have been fixed yet."

The new press officer will work from Clarence House, the London house of the Queen Mother and the Princess.

Monkey Business

Calcutta, May 31. Police spent three hours coaxing a woman's wallet from three monkeys in a pit at Calcutta's zoological gardens last week. A policeman tossed the wallet into the monkey pit and police pursued him through the zoo.—UPI.

BOOK ON WINDSOR BANNED IN A SPA

London, June 1. Royal Leamington Spa in central England, has banned from its town library a book about the Duke of Windsor, the News Chronicle reports today.

The book—Double Exposure—gives details of the Duke's romantic life when he was Prince of Wales and his twin sister, Gloria Vanderbilt and Thelma, Lady Furness.

Councillor Norman Slater, Leamington's library committee chairman, is quoted as saying: "It is in very bad taste."

"The book has no value as a work of literature in my view. The throne does not want this kind of publicity."

"It might embarrass the Royal family."

Alderman B. A. Fetherston-Dike, aged 83, is quoted as saying: "The last thing we want to do is to upset the Royal family."

Leamington Spa gained the right to call itself "royal" after visits there by the Royal family in 1938.—Reuter.

Hongkong Saturated By Morning Deluge

THREE INCHES IN FOUR HOURS

By A CHINA MAIL REPORTER

Hongkong was saturated by a deluge which started just before daylight this morning.

HK Colleges Can Get University Status If...

By A STAFF REPORTER

THE United Chinese College will be granted university status when all requirements have been fulfilled but this will take some time, it was learned this morning.

For the time being the various colleges will carry on as usual and their autonomy and management remain separated until the attainment of the new status.

The United Chinese College is a combination of several private post-secondary colleges whose medium of teaching is Chinese and who offer courses in arts and engineering.

Included in the group are the Canton Overseas College, the Kwang Hsia College, the Wah Kiu College, the Wen Hua College, the Ping Kiu College of Accountancy, the Chung Chi College and the New Asia College.

After the university status is granted, degrees offered by the United Chinese College will be recognised by the Commonwealth Inter-University Conference as to be of equivalent standard to other Commonwealth universities.

At the height of the downpour—which yielded over three inches of rain in four hours—there was extensive flooding on roads and nullahs were turned into raging brown torrents.

Hongkong reservoirs, well below the half-way mark look like deriving substantial benefit.

An official of the Waterworks Office told the China Mail this morning that New Territories and Hongkong Island reservoirs benefited and up to 8 a.m. this morning the 24-hour gain was almost 100 million gallons.

During the morning another three-quarters of an inch of rain was recorded at the Royal Observatory. The total rain since the storm began at 8 a.m. was 3.74 inches, at noon. The temperature, which has been six to seven degrees cooler than yesterday, was 75 degrees at noon. The minimum temperature during the night was 72.7 degrees.

The Observatory spokesman explained that there was a low pressure trough situated south of Hongkong causing storms all along the China Coast. The rain storms are expected to continue today, but the trough may move further south tomorrow afternoon bringing some improvement.

Welcome Relief

The rain brought a welcome relief from the muggy heat of the past few days. The spokesman said that today, with overcast skies, the temperature should reach a maximum of about 80 degrees.

Traffic along Robinson Road this morning was upset when four cars became bogged down in silt, washed from a building site by the heavy rain. By 9 a.m. the traffic police had taken control, but by then vehicles headed for Western District were packed solid as far back as Garden Road.

Three of the four cars were eventually freed, and the Police allowed single lane traffic to proceed through the flooded areas.

Workmen were set to clear the blocked drains and succeeded in releasing the flood water shortly before 9 a.m. Later, the only obstruction left was the disabled car and a heavy deposit of mud, which still limited traffic to a single lane.

Water Situation

A manhole cover at the junction of Caroline Hill and Link Road, opposite Cable and Wireless Sports Club, was forced off by a torrent of water which continued to gush three feet in the air, until the rain eased off.

The water situation has improved somewhat since 8 a.m. yesterday. Up to 8 a.m. today the water storage figure stood at 3,944 million gallons. At the same time yesterday the figure was 3,855 million gallons.

But this latest figure was determined two hours before the rain eased off. Rain water will continue to pour into the reservoirs for some time from the catchment nullahs.

The water authority announced that up to 8 a.m. at Aberdeen, 2.75 inches of rain had been recorded, and at Shing Mun nearly three inches were recorded.

The first aircraft to land at the airport this morning was the Pan American flight from Tokyo, which touched down at 10.25, some three and a half hours behind schedule. After 10.30 the rain had eased to a drizzle and the fog had cleared. Flooding outside the waiting rooms subsided soon after.

Another PAA flight from Bangkok was diverted to Manila at 9.45 a.m. Only one plane took off up to 10.30 a.m., which was a CPA flight for Bangkok. It left Kai Tak at 8.02 a.m.

Judge Criticises Woman Juror

Mr Justice J. R. Gregg in the Supreme Court today severely criticised a European woman juror who asked to be excused from serving in a murder trial because she had two young babies.

A jury of six women and one man had been empanelled to try Ng Yim, 40, unemployed, who has pleaded not guilty to murdering a woman, Yau Man-wan, on November 20, 1958, at Foo Mei new village, Kowloon.

As she was about to be sworn in, the woman stood up and asked Mr Justice Gregg to release her from jury service.

"I have two young babies to look after," she said.

Mr Justice Gregg told her: "This point should not have been raised in the jury box. You should have written to the registrar before."

"People cannot be excused from duty as jurors because they have babies to look after."

The woman, sobbing, told his Lordship the two babies were twins, aged eight months.

Mr Justice Gregg said: "I repeat, that this is the wrong time to ask to be excused."

JUDGE'S RULING

"The proper time was before-hand."

The Crown Counsel, Mr D. Rea, then asked that the woman be excused.

His Lordship said that in the circumstances he would allow her to stand down.

The defending barrister, Mr Oswald, Cheung, later objected to another woman juror because he knew her personally.

She was ordered to stand down.

Mr Rea is assisted by Mr D. G. Willis.

Mr Cheung is instructed by Mr William Wong, of M. K. Lam and Co.

(SEE BACK PAGE)

WHALE SWIMS INTO SHIP COMING TO HK

A whale swam into the side of the President Hoover during the liner's passage from America to Hongkong.

This was revealed today by passengers when the ship arrived in the Colony.

LOG ENTRY

The log book and Captain Fred E. Angrick verified the story. The President Hoover was steaming north at 12 knots near Yokohama when the 35-foot whale-bumped into the ship.

The log entry says: "At 1803 a whale bumped into the port side at the aft end of No. 3 hatch, approximately four feet below the surface. The ship was not damaged."

After bumping the vessel, the ship maneuvered to avoid encircling the whale in the propellers. The ship was not damaged.

Skinny PCs Needed

Newcastle, May 31. Police headquarters sent out an urgent call today for all skinny constables to report immediately to a warehouse in the centre of town to try to catch a burglar.

The burglar had entered the warehouse through a skylight, and all the policemen who investigated the situation were too big to get through the opening.

Two thin constables answered the urgent call, went through the skylight, and captured their thin prey.—UPI.

U.S. DEATH TOLL

New York, May 31. A total of 316 people had been killed in traffic and other accidents throughout the United States by this evening, the third day of the Memorial Day week-end, which honours Americans killed in wars.—Reuter.

Big Four Approaching Talks' Crucial Stage

Geneva, June 1. The Big Four foreign ministers resume their secret talks here today amid signs that their negotiations on Berlin are approaching a crucial stage.

They are meeting in the villa of Mr Andrei Gromyko of Russia at the start of a week in which they are expected to face their main decisions.

The three-week-old conference is facing deadlock over conflicting plans for a Berlin settlement.

Prince Richard Adopts Nigerian-Lepor

Lagos, May 31. Prince Richard, 14-year-old son of the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, has "adopted" a Nigerian boy who is afflicted with leprosy, it was disclosed here today.

The boy lives at the Church of Scotland leper settlement in Ilu, Eastern Nigeria, and the "adoption"—which means that Prince Richard will pay the boy's treatment expenses—was arranged through the Nigerian branch of the British Leprosy Relief Association by the Duke and Duchess.

The royal couple left here by air today for London after an 18-day visit to Nigeria.—China Mail Special.

Key Work

Key work at the conference is now taking place in the restricted meetings. No date has been fixed yet for the next plenary session.

The Western ministers are expected to meet this morning to prepare for the negotiating session with Mr Gromyko. Dr Heinrich von Brentano, the West German Foreign Minister, will attend the Western consultations.—Reuter.

'Savage & Inhuman' Says Bishop

London, May 31. A prominent clergyman last night attacked a "savage and inhuman" gaol sentence handed down for a widow who took money for sewing and didn't tell pension officials about it.

Mrs Ethelma Christos, the widowed mother of four children, was sentenced to two months in gaol last week for making false representations to get National Assistance Welfare payments.

She admitted taking in sewing to supplement the £5 per week which her welfare cheque gave her without declaring the £2 or £3 the sewing brought her.

Mrs Christos, 39, said she had turned to sewing for extra income to help her three youngest children, who were ill with tuberculosis.

SHORT SKIRTS MORE LEGS

New York, May 31. The Artists Group of America said today shorter skirts were bringing more attention to women's legs than ever before and that a "woman's legs reflect her personality."

The Artists Group polled its members for the 10 women in America with the most interesting legs. Named were Debbie Reynolds, Anita Ekberg, Kim Novak, Elaine Malbin, Kathyrn Grant, Betty Grable, Jean Martin, Shirley Maclaine, Cyd Charisse and Lisa Kirk.—UPI.

KING'S PRINCESS

SHOWING TO-DAY

DORIS DAY JACK LEMMON ERNIE KOVACS
IT HAPPENED TO JANE

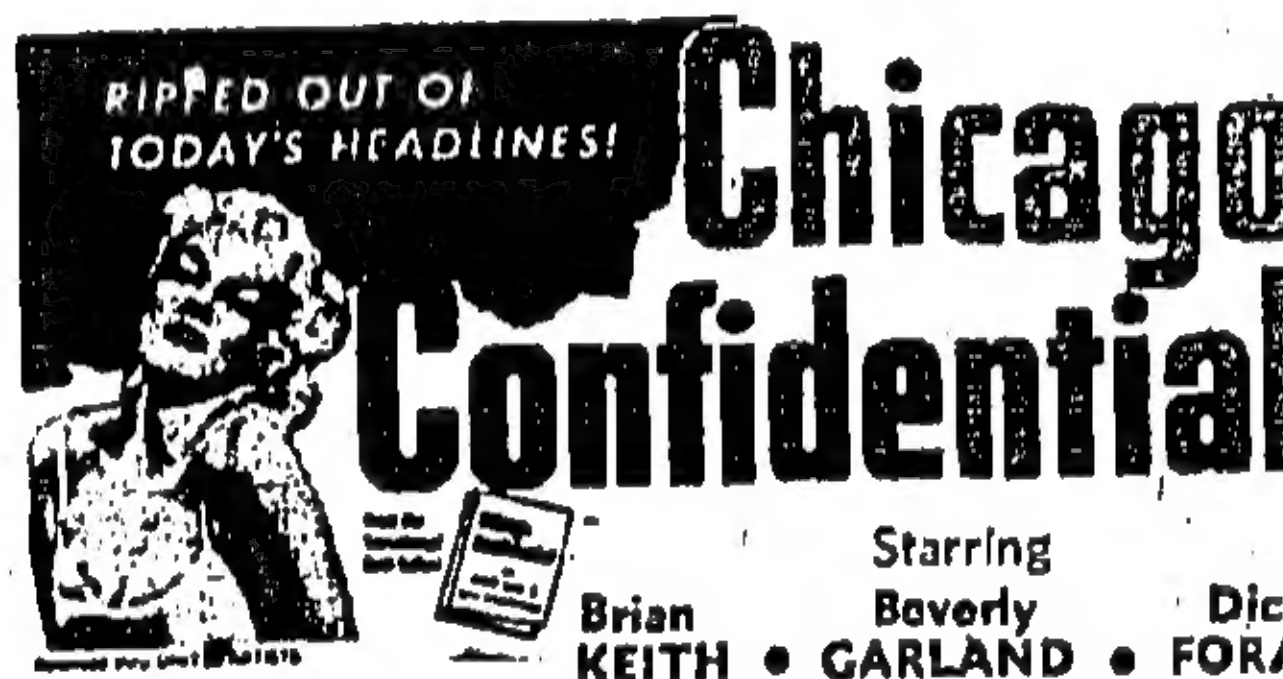

Produced by STEVE FOREST. Screenplay by NORMAN KRASNA. Film by NORMAN KRASNA. Produced and Directed by NORMAN KRASNA. A COLUMBIA PICTURES PRESENTATION. A COLUMBIA PICTURES PRODUCTION. A COLUMBIA PICTURES RELEASE. A COLUMBIA PICTURES DISTRIBUTION. A COLUMBIA PICTURES PRESENTATION. A COLUMBIA PICTURES PRODUCTION. A COLUMBIA PICTURES RELEASE. A COLUMBIA PICTURES DISTRIBUTION.

COMING!

STAR METROPOLE

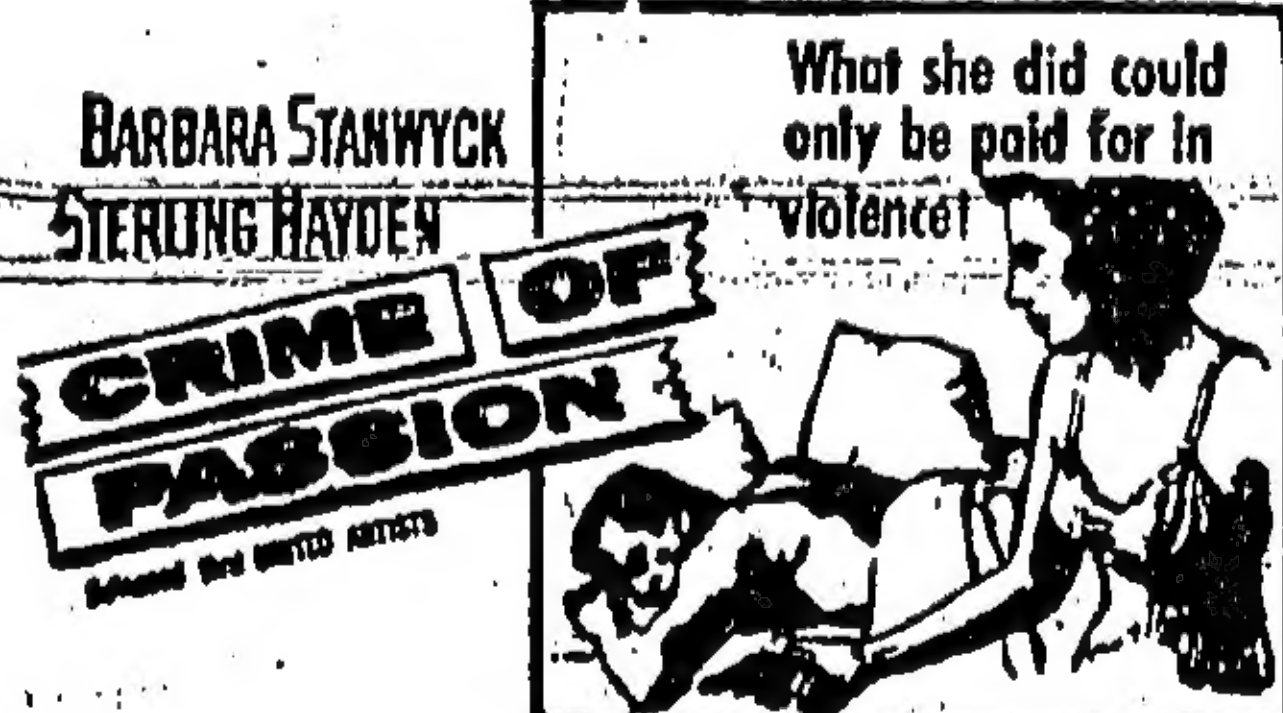

★ FINAL SHOWING TO-DAY ★
AT 2.30, 5.30, 7.30 & 9.30 P.M.

★ OPENING TO-MORROW ★

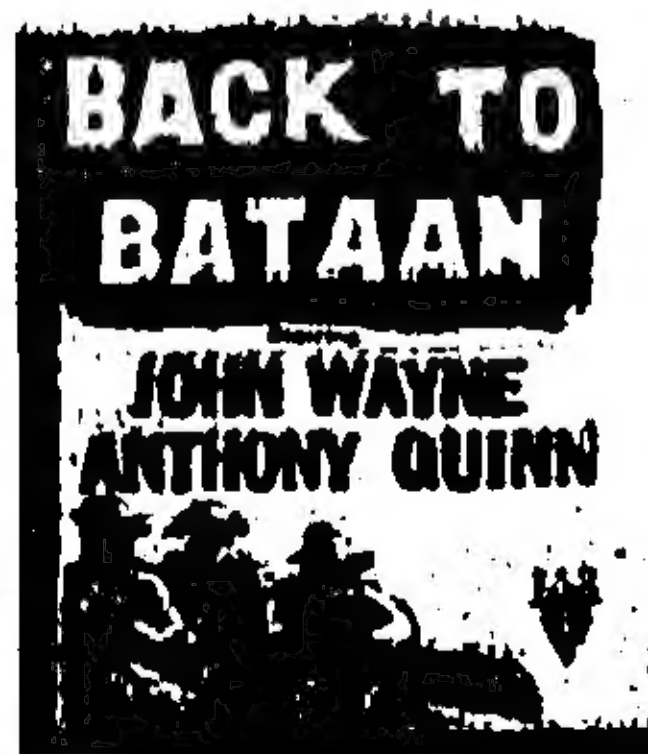

BOOKINGS NOW OPEN!
COMING VERY SOON

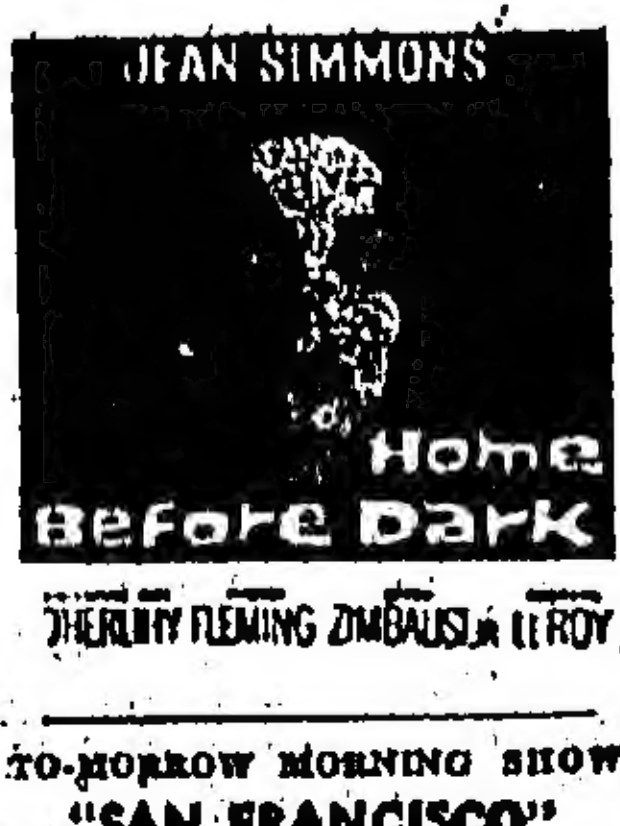

Watch for the Opening Date!

ORIENTAL MAJESTIC
AIR-CONDITIONED

SHOWING TO-DAY
AT 2.30, 5.30, 7.30 & 9.30 P.M.
A THRILL IN EVERY MINUTE!

SHOWING TO-DAY
Please Note Change of Times
AT 2.30, 5.00, 7.30 & 9.40 P.M.

Fashion Show And Prom

ERNST GOTTSCHALK

Those who are reluctant to pay for a concert where only one instrument is played by only one artist should have been well-satisfied on Sunday night when not only more than forty musicians played on the respective number of instruments, but where they also were treated to an additional fashion show.

The occasion, a happy one, was the Promenade Concert given by the Hongkong Concert Orchestra at the Hongkong Bull-ring.

The orchestra under its conductor Victor Ardy, and led by Fred Carpio, successfully achieved its aim, that is to offer "music with a smile" and to present a "variety of music."

★ ★ ★

This time the orchestra played not only with its accustomed zest and enthusiasm, but with cleanliness, unmarred intonation and a greater flexibility than before. Only on a few occasions I would have wished that the brass section would have given the strings a better chance to assert themselves to the extent that was due to them during passages in Rossini's ever so popular overture to "The Thieving Magpie" and the post-pursuit from "My Fair Lady."

The marches on the programme came off splendidly. "Buglers Holiday" gave the brass its chance to show off their abilities and that went too for the string section, which did quite well with "Fiddle Faddle." Both items received an extra applause, as Mr. M. Hayes did for his xylophone solo, an already traditional feature of these proms.

It has been often pointed out, by others as well as by me, that these concerts have, in the past, been a little too much for the string section, which did quite well with "Fiddle Faddle." Both items received an extra applause, as Mr. M. Hayes did for his xylophone solo, an already traditional feature of these proms.

★ ★ ★

On Sunday they added a special attraction by presenting two fashion shows under the title "Portrait of a Lady." Five models, all very lovely, showed a large collection of exquisite gowns and dresses. I liked them and a rather sophisticated young lady, who accompanied me, liked most of them. So, I suppose, they must have been good.

Summing up, it was an enjoyable evening which left me with the impression that for two hours I had not been in Hongkong, but that I had spent a couple of hours in the "Kursaal" of a fashionable spa somewhere in Europe.

If the orchestra continues to stick to the right selection of music—as it has already done since its recent concerts—and if it keeps up the high technical standard of playing that it has now achieved—then it will add more regular patrons of their concerts to the many it already has.

★ TO-MORROW ★

One Day Only

"TARZAN'S FIGHT FOR LIFE"

Letters To The Editor

School Fees

Sir,—I have read with interest Mr. Mohamed Suleman's letter published in your esteemed paper on May 28 concerning the increase of school fees by Diocesan Girls' School.

Whilst I fully agree with him that education is not a luxury reserved for the rich, I, however, opine that he has not, as he should have, given the case an all-sided viewing before expressing his comments which, in a mistaken light, may create on the public a fallacious impression on a worthy educational institution.

As the parent of a student attending the Diocesan Girls' School, I think that in fairness to all concerned, the facts surrounding this school fee increment should be made known for public information.

Objectively speaking, just as much as we are entitled to our own opinion, so are the Diocesan Girls' School Council to their decision to withdraw from Government Grant. If they regard that this is in the interest of the School as a whole, I received, and I believe other students' guardians did too, a circular to that effect well before hand. I could have sent, if I wanted to, my daughter, to another school prior to the commencement of the next semester, but this I am not going to do because I consider that the benefit my daughter would get with full day session after the increment, do worth the higher school fees, though which undoubtedly means great financial strain to me as an only a petty businessman.

It is commonly accepted that the propagation of education should be the first primary object in running a school, and it has at least to be self-sustained before it can remain well managed. Too bad, we just cannot cut the cake and still have it.

I have come to understand that a rate only 50% of the figure after the increment is applicable to the second and more students from the same family. Moreover, those who really cannot afford it can apply for reduction. If Mr. Mohamed Suleman's friend has a deserving case, I believe the School Council will certainly give it every due consideration.

SATISFIED.

Too Much Too Soon

Sir,—The Hongkong China Mail, one of the venerable papers which inhibit the Far Eastern scene, has recently received the Singapore People's Action Party, one of the "most disgusting, irreverent and irresponsible of public leadership."

This may very well be so, but to compare them to waterfront coolies and the Parisian gutters of 1789 is going too far. These venerable British journals, I feel, forget that the present President of the Chinese Republic was also a coolie. Surely, Her Majesty's new envoy is not above shaking hands with a coolie.

In going back to 1789, the rolls of British history do not appear to have produced any such remarkable as the great leaders of the French Revolution. As for the "most disgusting, irreverent and irresponsible of public leadership," I think, since World War I, new leaders had arisen—de Valera in Ireland, Gandhi in India, Kemal Pasha in Turkey, Goebbels in Germany. These men were nationalists in that they considered their country first, but none of them were hostile to the idea of the World State—indeed they were acutely conscious of the need for it.

There is a distinct line of development traceable in ideals and characteristics, from Kemal Pasha to de Valera, the politician and from Gandhi to Goebbels the propagandist-organiser. Of these Kemal the first was the strongest, the primitive fighter and the last, the last Goebbels perhaps the furthest developed, with all the moral perversity and mental persistence of the highly civilised man. Apart from their anti-British feelings, Goebbels and Gandhi had perhaps much of that political genius which made Machiavelli unique in his own age. They were Nature's pointer to the future—the prototype of Spengler's Superman, the kind of issues that might arise and the manner of men competent to solve them.

I well remember when I was a boy seeing the long lines of Chinese emigrants to Singapore lined up at the wharf, brutally stripped naked, both men and women alike, then searched

Queen Juliana

Sir,—I had no idea that my small article would prompt you into writing a long editorial comment. However I still beg to differ from opinion and disagree with several remarks, supporting your argument.

You do use "Belgian King" instead of "Dutch King" in an article about this monarch, in the China Mail about 10 days ago; and in the same issue, on the same frontpage you do state "Queen Juliana" instead of "Juliana", thereby apparently making already an exception, and very recently at that, to what you consider a common rule. I furthermore do claim that more often than not "Princess" Margaret is used in headlines instead of simply "Margaret" which you again claim to be a common rule, and I am quite certain that most British people would be annoyed if Queen Elizabeth would be referred to as "Elizabeth" in the foreign press.

As to your remark that headline writing requires the maximum economy of words, I leave it to readers to consider the headlines of newspapers of these days on their own merits.

STILL ANNOYED.

Floating Restaurants

Sir,—We have a gripe against a floating restaurant at Aberdeen. Before leaving Taiwan, some of our friends whom we have visited in Hongkong advised us to sure to visit Aberdeen and have luncheon on one of the floating restaurants.

On May 10, 1959, six of us from Taiwan, together with a lady friend from New York, hired two taxis from the Kowloon Ferry over to Hongkong. After visiting the high spots we came to Aberdeen about 1 a.m., and ferried to the Tai Pak floating restaurant.

We saw lobsters, fishes, shrimps, crabs, etc., all enclosed in nets. We were told that visitors were allowed to choose their liking. To our surprise, the tender discouraged us to select our own lobsters, fish or crabs. Instead he made up a menu of his own which consisted of a small bowl of canned corn, a dish of shrimps (fried and red), a dish of fried sliced fish, battered with eggs and a small plate of oranges, two pieces to each, just enough to fiddle the throat. Bill rendered was HK$42. To be sportmanlike, we tipped 10 per cent of the cost, thus making our meal cost HK$53 each.

We can get a lot better food in Kowloon for half the price. Why advisers that visitors may choose their own food, and why is it that the tender refused to let us choose our own fresh sea food?

Also, why should the restaurant take advantage of the tourist?

A DISAPPOINTED TOURIST.

Spitting

Sir,—At Repulse Bay beach yesterday I was thoroughly disgusted to see a Chinese man spit disgustingly on the sand as he walked along with his family. Children play in this sand and people lie on it, even resting their faces on it. However much success the Urban Council is having with its "Keep The Beaches Clean" campaign, as long as this kind of thing is allowed to continue their efforts are purposeless.

I suggest on-the-spot $50 fines.

Pierced Ears

Sir,—Re. "Fashionettes" (China Mail, Saturday 30th May), page 10.

Italian jewellery designer Ambrosini has devised light-

Plans For Typhoon Warnings

Today is the beginning of typhoon season which will last until October 15.

For shipping, air traffic and school children's safety, the Royal Observatory and Marine Department will co-operate with Radio Hongkong in giving regular information to the public.

When typhoon signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast information regularly during the day.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

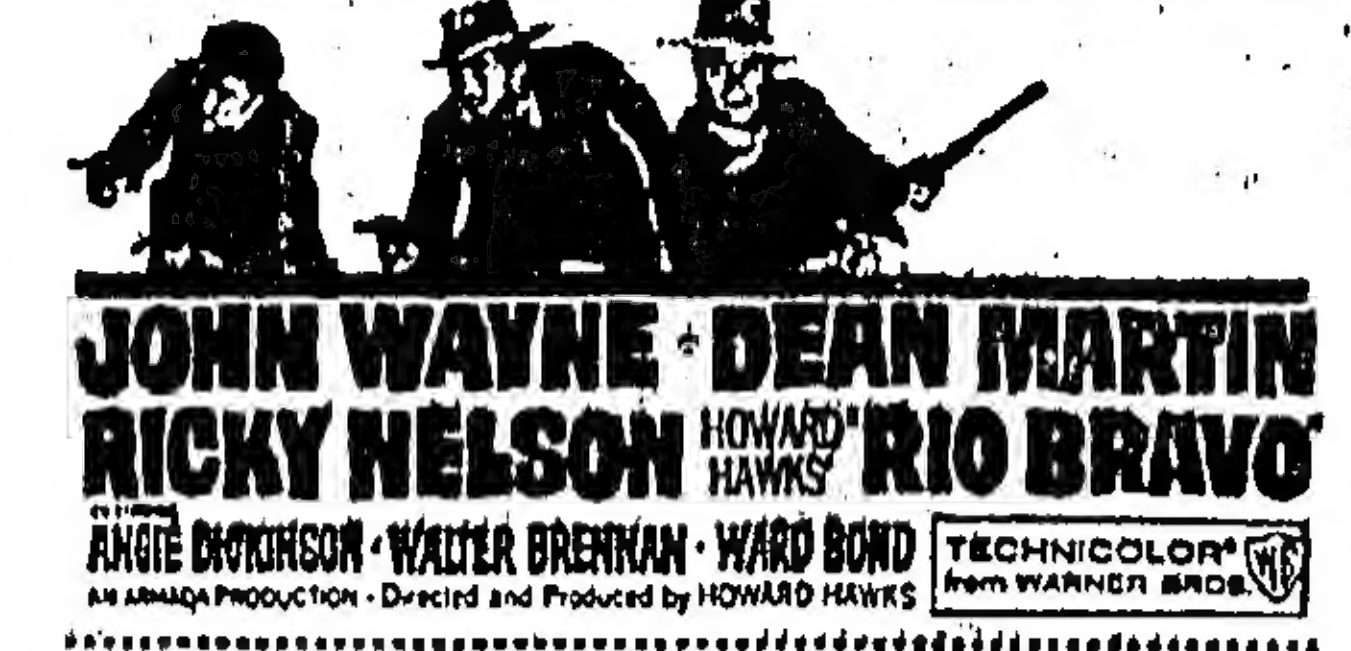

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

When Nos. 5-10 signals are hoisted, Radio Hongkong will broadcast regularly at half-hour or one-hour intervals.

Lee Astor

★ SHOWING TO-DAY ★
(Please Note Change of Times)
AT 2.30, 5.00, 7.20 & 9.45 P.M.

THEY GREW INTO GIANTS AT RIO BRAVO.

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

CLERGY ACCUSE CHINESE OF SHOCKING ATROCITIES

HELP FOR ASIA URGED

New York, June 2. Mr. Douglas Dillon, the acting Secretary of State, today appealed to America's private enterprise to do more to help increase the productivity of underdeveloped countries—particularly in Africa and Asia.

Mr. Dillon, in a prepared address to the Graduate School of Business at Columbia University, declared that international Communism had openly named the economically weak areas of the world as major targets in its campaign to undermine the West.

"The total offensive is therefore aimed at penetrating and capturing the underdeveloped countries of Asia, Africa, the Middle East and Latin America," he said.

"Whether or not they succeed will be determined, not only by our actions as a government, but also, and to an important extent, by the role played by private enterprise in furthering our country's foreign policy in the underdeveloped world," he said.

Washington, May 31.

Congressional investigators today made public testimony accusing the Chinese Communists of atrocities rivalling those of the black days of Buchenwald.

The testimony, given by Christian missionaries who served in the Orient, charged the Communists with the murder of 30 million Chinese over the past 10 years.

The witnesses also told the House Committee on un-American Activities that the Chinese people were resisting the commune system by killing livestock, burning their crops and fighting from the mountains as guerrillas.

The testimony, which was given in secret, painted a grim picture of life in the communes, where family units are completely broken up, separating wives, husbands and children.

The Rev. Shih-ping Wang, now East Asia director for a Baptist group, said this is what happens to old people:

"All the elderly people 60 years of age and above who cannot work are put in the old people's 'happy home'. After they are placed in the homes, they are given a bowl of soup and a piece of bread for their health... they die within two weeks.

"After they die, the corpses are placed in vats. When the bodies decay and maggots get in, the maggots are used to feed chickens. The remainder of the body is used for fertilizer."

Family Ties Cut

"In Hongkong," he said, "the people do not eat chickens imported from the mainland because of the food fed to the chickens."

He said the Chinese also are digging up old graves and using the bones for fertilizer. "To dig up the graves is to sever family ties completely," he said.

"Chinese people revere their ancestors. Digging up the graves is the Communist method of severing all connections with tradition and the past."

The Rev. Wang gave this description of commune family life:

"Husbands and wives may meet only once a week for two hours. Because these places of meeting are few, couples must stand in line at the special rooms waiting their turn.

"And after they are finished, they must report to the commune group leaders to tell the date and time and how long they stayed together. They must also report what they said and did together."

No Names

"The parents may see their children once a week and when they see them they cannot show affection toward their children. The idea is to have the children and the family sever their affection and direct it toward the state."

"Names are taken away from the children and they are given numbers. There is no individual identity...."

Another witness, the Rev. Samuel W. S. Cheng, now a church mission leader in Taipei, described what happened to the family of a member of the Chinese Nationalist House of Representatives.

"His family and his cousin, brothers, all relatives—altogether 180 people—have been killed," he said.

Torn By Horses

The minister said the oldest brother of the lawmaker went back to China in 1957 for peace negotiations and had been heard from since.

The Rev. Cheng said the legislator's sister-in-law was tied to five horses by the Reds.

"One horse was tied to her neck," he said, "and the other horses were tied to her arms and legs and they went in all directions.

"The biggest horse ran and it just tore her body into pieces. The blood streamed all over the public square and the people shut their eyes and cried. They could not stand to see it."—UPI.

REQUEST CABLED TO MAO

Yonkers, N.Y., May 31. A group in Yonkers called "The Citizens Committee of Yonkers" has cabled Mao Tse-tung requesting the release of Hugh F. Redmond Jr., whose father died here on Friday.

The prisoner was arrested eight years ago by the Communists and sentenced to life imprisonment on an espionage charge.

The cable signed by the chairman of the committee, William Gawlick, and addressed to Mao of the Red Cross Society, Peking, reads:

"Honorable Sir, Hugh Francis Redmond Jr.'s father died here on Friday, June 2, 1951. We the people of Yonkers petition you to let Hugh Francis Redmond Jr., eldest son, come home to pay his final respects to his father and to help support his elderly mother so sorely in need of him now. We ask you to greatly consider this petition in this great hour of sorrow. Respectfully yours, —AFP.

AUTO HEIR'S WIFE PLANS TO BUILD GIRLS' TOWN

Palm Beach, Fla., May 31. Pretty Gregg Sherwood Dodge, who stepped from a chorus line to wed auto heir Horace Dodge II, said today she plans to devote the rest of her life to caring for homeless girls.

Mrs. Dodge said she already has raised $2,500,000 in cash and pledges for a "Girls' Town, USA," in South Florida to be patterned after the famous boys town in Nebraska.

"I want to devote the rest of my life to this," said the one-time actress whose name has hit the headlines in recent years for alleged drunk-driving and abuse of police officers, and in connection with suits to collect unpaid bills of her millionaire husband.

"I have several sites in mind now and it's up to the Governor to determine which one can be released to us," she said, adding that the Governor has been "very gracious and receptive to this idea."

Ah, The Sweet Scent Of It!

Here expert Harry Wheatcroft inspects rose blooms before putting them out for display at the Chelsea Flower Show, London.—Reuterphoto.

THE UN REPORTS ON— Marriage—The World Around

United Nations, May 31. Alaska and the Falkland Islands are the happy hunting ground for any girl looking for a husband—and Ireland is the worst place in the world to find one, the United Nations disclosed today.

In its demographic yearbook, the U.N. disclosed that in Alaska and the Falklands more than 200 women out of 1,000 get married every year, compared with 87 in the United States and 20 in Central America.

Men have the greatest chances for finding a bride in East Germany—with a rate of 113 men out of 1,000 marrying each year.

West Germany, Poland and Eastern Europe in general offer the best possibilities for a bachelor seeking a wife.

But Ireland is the worst all around. Thirty-one per cent of its male population are still bachelors at the age of 45—the highest percentage in the world.

For every 25 per cent of the women are still unmarried at 45.

The average age for marriage in the world is 24 for women and 27 for men. In the United States, the average is 22 for girls and 24 for men. In French Guiana they look before they leap—and the average is 31. Married people live longer than single ones, the yearbook reported, concluding that marriage was good for the health providing that the spouses do not divorce, for divorces cut down longevity.

Divorce

The yearbook pointed out the disparity in divorce laws, ranging from "Modern countries where a simple statement of intention is sufficient to dissolve a union, to Catholic countries where there is no divorce.

There are — not unnaturally — more divorces in countries where they are easier to obtain than in countries where they are difficult.

The United States heads the list of those with the highest divorce rate, with 22 divorces for every 1,000 inhabitants.

How soon does the urge to divorce appear? In less than three years after the marriage, in Sweden countries. In less than six years in the United States, after eight years in Switzerland, nine years in France, Sweden and Norway, after eleven years in England — and after 15 years in Portugal, on an average.—AFP.

Duke And Duchess Return

Lagos, Nigeria, May 31. The Duke and Duchess of Gloucester left in a Comet-4 jet airliner for London today after an 18-day visit to Nigeria.

Nigeria's Governor-General, Sir James Robertson, and the Federal Prime Minister, Mr. Abacha Tafawa Balewa, accompanied them to the airport.

Fifteen minutes after the Comet took off—in a fairly heavy mist—the Duke sent a message to Sir James expressing his delight at the welcome he and the Duchess had received throughout Nigeria.

"Neither of us will ever forget the splendour of the scenes we witnessed at Kaduna. We left the northern region confident in its future," the message said.—Reuter.

Big Ben Is 100

London, May 31. Big Ben, the world's most famous clock whose chimes mean home to thousands of Britons overseas, became 100 years old today.—Reuter.

CAPITOL

SHOWING TO-DAY
AT 2.30, 5.30, 7.30
& 9.30 P.M.

SPECIAL PRICE FOR STUDENTS
Up-Stair-Seats At $1.25 Each
Down-Stair-Seats At $0.75 Each

TOMORROW MORNING SHOW
AT 12.30 P.M.
Edmond O'Brien
In
"A ORY IN THE NIGHT"

Next Change
Jose Ferrer • Trevor Howard
In
"COCKLESHELL HEROES"
In Technicolor

ROXY & BROADWAY

★ FINAL SHOWING TO-DAY ★
AT 2.30, 5.30, 7.30 & 9.30 P.M.

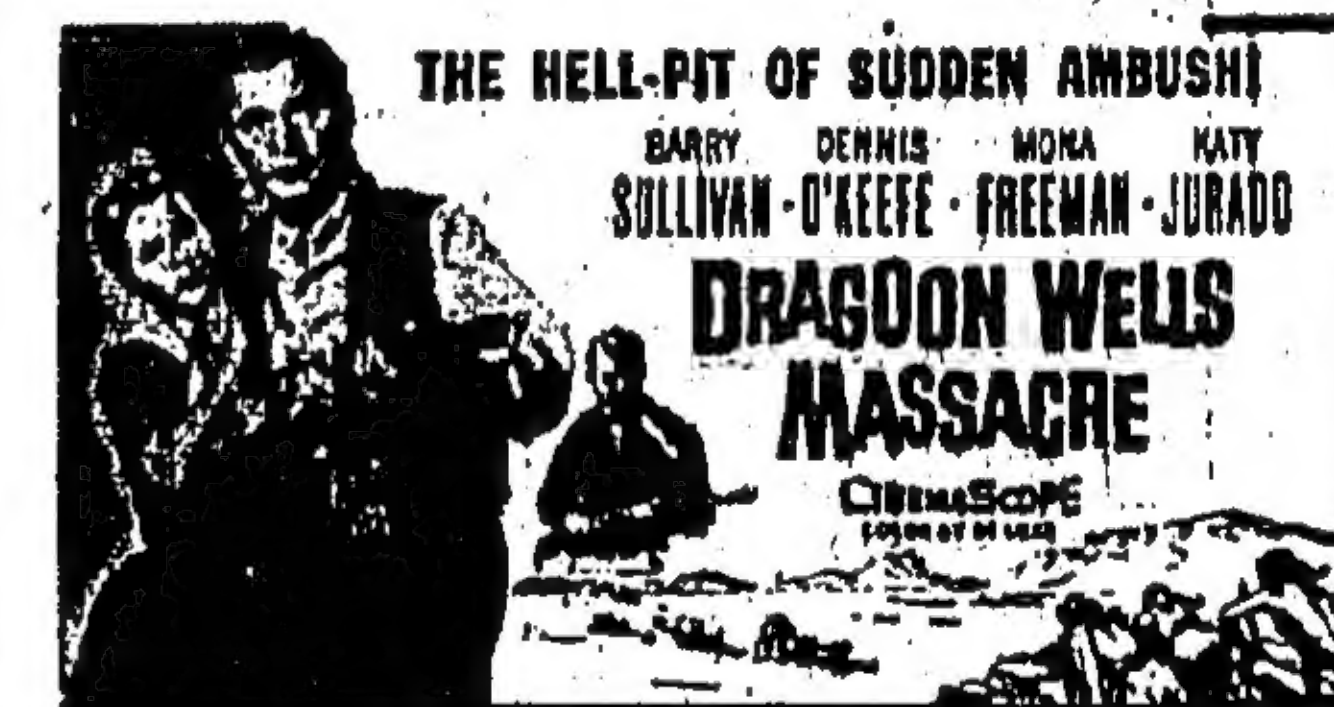

It cracks the Caribbean wide open!
It explodes with the Hemingway kind of power!

HEMINGWAY—HOT ADVENTURE!

SPECIALY ADDED: "PROFILE OF A MIRACLE"
In CinemaScope & Color
Narrated by Yul Brynner

★ OPENING TO-MORROW ★

BOOKINGS NOW OPEN!

COCKTAIL LOUNGE
PIANO—BAR
Featuring
ZACHEARY
a la "Nat King Cole"
Wine for the connoisseur
USUAL PRICE!

Proudly Presenting
World Famous Dance Team from London
MARGARET & MAURICE

NERVE-CRACKING DANCE OF WHIP BOLERO
2 Shows: 10.15 p.m. & 1.00 a.m.

Music by
GILSO & HIS SEXTET

Outstanding Vocalist
featuring
TINA

SUPERB CANTONESE CUISINE
RESERVATION TEL. 1000

THE PEAK
One furnished and one unfurnished flat to let in quiet rural surroundings with joint use of beautifully maintained level and undulating lawns and gardens.

CONDUIT ROAD
Well-designed 5 roomed apartment, facing the harbour. Immediate vacant possession. Rental $750.

MACDONELL ROAD
5 roomed apartments from $550 and 2 roomed flats from $350.

LUXURY APARTMENTS IN HEADLAND ROAD
Built and equipped regardless of cost, and each with area over 3,000 sq. ft. These apartments are unsurpassed in this Colony for spacious and gracious planning.

Further details of these and other attractive offers from
THE
Hongkong Land Investment & Agency Co., Ltd.

Glasgow Bldg., First floor (Agency Lettings)
HONG KONG. Tel. 24228

A British Crossword Puzzle

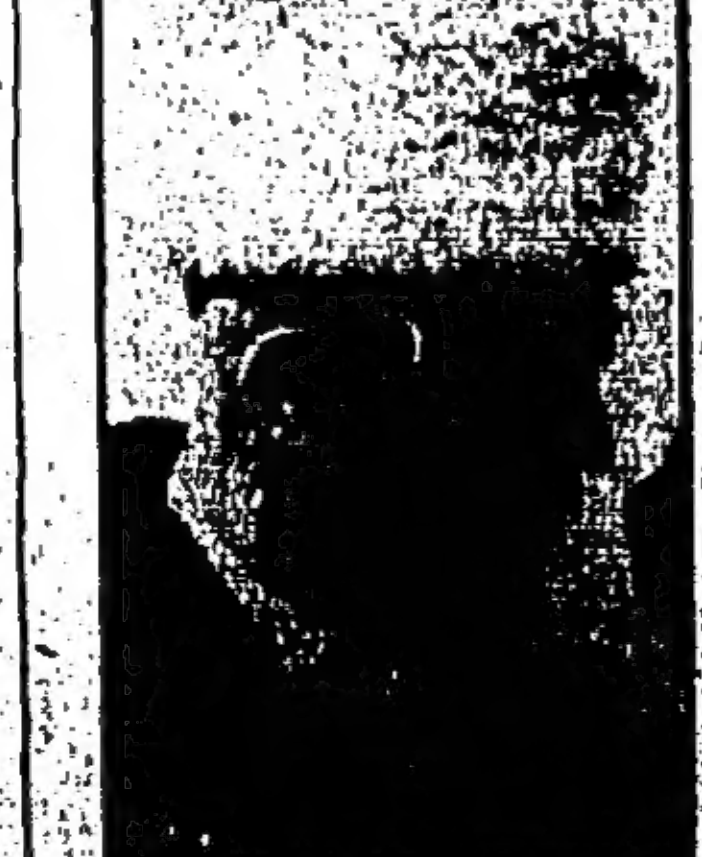

ACROSS
1 Pursues (6).
7 Smell strongly (4).
9 Pluck (5).
10 Musical work (5).
11 Move quickly (4).
13 Exhorts (10).
15 Close to (4).
16 Servant (4).
18 Reward (10).
22 Expensive (4).
24 Quiet (5).
25 Ingenious (5).
26 Public (4).
27 Holiday (5).

DOWN
2 Women's quarters in Mohammedan house (5).
3 Gloss (5).
4 Husband or wife (6).
5 Bullet (5).
6 Carry (4).
8 Eliminate (5).
12 Concise (5).
13 Equipped (5).
14 Commanding (8).
17 Angry (5).
18 Bad mistake (6).
20 Extreme fright (5).
21 Used with hammers (5).
23 Spot (4).

SATURDAY'S CROSSWORD—Across: 1 Supply, 4 Traces, 7 Casino, 8 Aspire, 10 Exult, 12 Spurring, 15 Brace, 16 Antic, 17 Dale, 19 Robust, 20 Steamroller, 21 Nice, 23 Mimic, 24 Banana, 25 Revel, 26 Adhere. Down: 1 Succeeds, 2 Possible, 3 Lids, 5 Restrained, 6 Client, 8 Spend, 11 Thrusts, 13 Screw, 15 Indistinct, 14 Generate, 16 Attire, 22 Wield.

Macmillan's White Fur Hat Was A Riot In Russia

The Hat

London, June 1. Mr. Harold Macmillan, the Prime Minister, created a "sensational-sensation" when he arrived in Moscow last February wearing a white fur hat, it was reported here today.

The report appeared in a new book entitled "Frigid's Progress in Russia" written by Mr. Eugene Hughes, a Labour Party M.P. who accompanied the Prime Minister on his journey to the Soviet Union.

"Down the gangway came a strangely apparelled figure with a white fur hat that looked more

"COULD THIS BE THE PM OF BRITAIN?"

like a bunny than the black fur hats the Russians were wearing. "Could this be Mr. Macmillan? It was the strange hat that made everybody look and gasp.

"Mr. Khrushchev and Mr. Nikhryev looked up incredulously. Could this really be the Prime Minister of Great Britain or had the Grand Lama of Tibet arrived instead?"

Mr. Hughes said Mr. Macmillan "had gone more Russian than the Russians." He also said that Mr. Macmillan "made some remarkable speeches in Russia for a Conservative Prime Minister. Very few people outside the Communist Party had spoken in more glowing terms of Soviet achievements."—Reuter.

WOMANSENSE

JAPANESE FASHIONS

YOUR BIRTHDAY... By STELLA

MONDAY, JUNE 1

BORN today, you are original, inventive, optimistic and aggressive. These characteristics will carry you far along the road to success. You want your own way and intend to get it. You do have moods, however, and must guard against being thrust into the depths of depression by some minor upset which will have only a temporary effect on your career.

JACOBY on BRIDGE

IN a recent team of four, a North-South pair bid scientifically but most ineffectively to land in an unmakeable five club contract.

Their bidding is shown in the box. North thought he was too strong to raise his partner immediately. Then when South rebid his club, North decided to raise to four whereupon South completed the dip in the soup by going on to five.

NORTH
10043	Q	8643
10043	Q	8643
10043	Q	8643
10043	Q	8643
WEST
10043	Q	8643
10043	Q	8643
10043	Q	8643
10043	Q	8643
EAST
10043	Q	8643
10043	Q	8643
10043	Q	8643
10043	Q	8643
SOUTH (D)
10043	Q	8643
10043	Q	8643
10043	Q	8643
10043	Q	8643

trump game unless someone bids no-trump and South old have the hearts nicely stopped. North's raise to three no-trump was perfectly normal and it was up to West to make the opening lead.

South ruffed off three spades and six club tricks and that was enough.

Answer Tomorrow

SIDE GLANCES By Galbraith

"Let's give the loud toys a rest until income tax time is over!"

Since you have excellent taste, you insist upon only the best of everything. You will never accept a substitute for something you really want. With you, it is "all or nothing."

This goes in your personal relationships, too. You are loyal and sincere in your emotional attachments and expect the same from the one you love. Your marriage should be a very happy one, provided that you do not wed in haste.

Although you do not like to accept advice from anyone else, you have a tendency to do so. The stars have given you excellent judgment, but you sometimes act on impulse. With you, that can mean making a serious mistake. You have an instinct for secrecy and intrigue, so if you are not careful, you can get into a real mix-up. Your life appears to run in cycles of three—three fortuitous events; three misfortunes. Learn to watch for the alternating cycles and act accordingly. In the regard, follow your intuitions explicitly, avoiding all outside advice.

Among those born on this date are: William Wilfred Campbell, Canadian poet; General Benjamin Oliver Davis, U.S. Army Commander and Tuskegee professor; Ernest Fox Nichols, physicist; Ibrahim Young, Moroccan leader; John Drinkwater, poet and dramatist.

To find what the stars have in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

TUESDAY, JUNE 2

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Good fortune should be your ally. Be discreet in all you undertake to reach success.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Friends can be co-operative in helping you decide on some real estate deal. Buying a new home.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—An exciting, romantic day, but be on your guard against an upsetting mishap early this evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Prospects are excellent, but there is some risk attached to your progress. Be on guard, but act promptly.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—A money-making day for all your efforts. Be careful this morning; then all goes well with you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23)—An active day and you should make a handsome profit. Don't neglect your future by taking on too much.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—One of those days when the lucky breaks are with you. Take full advantage of an opportunity.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Stick to facts and you are all right. Don't permit yourself to be deluded by false promises.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—A good day for business, but you can also combine it with domestic matters to good advantage.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Although the money seems plenty, guard against undue extravagance.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20)—Act cautiously this morning, but be ready to take in the profit when afternoon arrives.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21)—For you, results will depend upon another person's actions. But do what you can for yourself.

SEPARATES FOR SUMMER

This collarless jacket with half-sleeves and large patch pockets goes with tight slacks.
DESIGN: Masuo Noguchi
COLOUR: Daffodil

First-Aid Treatment PHILOSOPHY FOR A FAT GIRL

WITH the kids constantly on the go these warm days, it's only natural for them to collect a few minor injuries, such as animal bites and, of course, insect stings.

So let me give you a few emergency treatment tips for these minor summer hazards.

MOST COMMON INJURIES

Cuts and wounds probably are among the most common of these injuries. Applying pressure with sterile gauze at the site of the cut will generally halt the flow of blood. I'll give you some advice on how to halt more severe bleeding in another column.

Once the blood stops, you can apply 2 per cent Mercurochrome or one-half strength iodine and then bandage with sterile gauze. If the cut is deep or gaping, your doctor may have to use stitches to close it.

CHEMICAL BURNS

And remember, when iodine is used, it must always be removed with alcohol before dressing is applied. In some persons, even a weak iodine solution will produce chemical burns.

Bruises and abrasions are probably the next most common summertime injuries.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

If you find the top of a cake is cracked when it is removed from the oven, wrap a piece of old linen or a thin tea towel out in warm water and place over the crack. This will bring the edges together again.

For a bruise, apply an ice bag or cold cloths for half an hour. If the skin is broken, treat it the same as you would a minor cut.

TREATING ABRASIONS

Some abrasions might be dirty and need cleaning. In such cases, sponge off the area gently with mild soap and water, blot it dry and then cover it with 2 per cent Mercurochrome and, if necessary, apply a sterile dressing.

In case of a sprain, the injured part should be elevated. Apply an ice bag or cold cloths immediately.

If the swelling is pronounced, and accompanied by pain, suspect a fracture. Run your fingers GENTLY over the point where you think the break might be. If it appears uneven, and is tender, don't move the limb at all, but call a doctor.

STINGS AND BITES

The sting or bite of just about any insect can be soothed by applying a wet pack of baking soda. The honeybee, remember, is the only bee whose sting is at all poisonous. This bee always leaves its stinger in the wound and it must be removed before the wound will heal.

For animal bites, wash the wound thoroughly with soap and water. Then rinse well with running water. Rabies of course, is the great danger in such cases. Since the rabies virus is carried in the saliva of the animal, it's important to wash all the saliva from the wound.

Always take a bite victim to the doctor immediately and have authorities try to apprehend the animal.

By H. N. SUNDEREN, M.D.

The Right Site

THE right site for a garden is just as necessary for success as the great thumb.

To all you gardening newcomers, and old-timers—who may need a few reminders, the experts recommend selection of a plot which will get direct sunlight at least six hours a day.

Choose land that is well drained, clean and reasonably fertile.

The experts say that what is lacking in fertility can be added. But they warn newcomers against trying to produce vegetables and flowers in a combination of subsoil, trash and rubble left behind by a builder's crew.

Any soil that will grow a crop of grass or weeds can be developed into a good garden, they say.

Before you spade, clean away all the plant debris, stones, anything that will interfere with working the soil.

Don't spade until the ground has dried. Working in wet soil packs it. To test for dryness, squeeze a handful of soil, and then break apart in your fingers. If the dirt crumbles, it's ready to work.

When you dig for the vegetable garden, don't turn up more than one inch or so of the subsoil. In most areas, garden experts recommended spading eight to 10 inches in depth.

And while getting ready to spade, you'll want to plan for addition of lime and fertilizer.

Lime improves the structure of some heavy soils, but too much may hurt garden crops. Use lime only when a soil test shows it is necessary.

As for fertilizer, use either manure or commercial products. On small gardens, the commercial fertilizers should be raked or harrowed into the top three to four inches of the soil, using about 50 to 60 pounds for a plot measuring 30 by 50 feet.

Now for the tools. The beginner will need a good spade or spade fork, perhaps a hand trowel, a rake, an ordinary hoe, and some strong cord for laying off rows.

—UPI.

Let's Eat
BY
IDA BAILEY ALLEN

Braised Veal Chops Good With Mushrooms

THE waiters were pouring coffee at the press dinner when someone said "Hello!" over my left shoulder. There stood columnist Bob Considine, resplendent in the most amazing dress shirt. White, of course, but it looked like a Venetian blind.

"Why all the shutters?" asked.

"Bo any crumbs or green peas will bounce down step by step and land in the cummerbund," he grinned.

Back he went to emcee the entertainment.

Mind-Reading Act
One of the first numbers was a team of mind readers.

"Bet they'll never guess what I've written on this paper," remarked the man from Long Island.

"And I'm sure they won't read what I've just written down," remarked his wife.

Well, the mind readers didn't agree. But afterward, the papers were handed to me and the Chef—and now you've guessed it—they were questions about food.

Delightful Sauce
"What is the name of the delightful sauce served on the asparagus we had at dinner?" was one question.

"It was Sauce Folenaise, a topping used for asparagus or broccolis, noodles, creamed meat or fish."

Sauce Folenaise: Brown 1 c. fine white bread crumbs in 1/2 c. melted butter. Add 1 tsp. lemon juice and 1 tsp. minced parsley.

Second Question
Here is the second question which was handed to the Chef:

"How can I make elegant, baked-stuffed potatoes, without ragged-looking edges?"

"This depends on two things," he answered.

"The potatoes should be medium-large, nearly Idaho or Longwhites. When baked, the skins become very brittle and break with uneven edges when the tops of the potatoes are cut off, for the stuffing process."

"The trick is to keep the skins soft. To do this, rub the potatoes all over with fat before baking, and the skins will not break."

TOMORROW'S DINNER
Tossed Lettuce and Chervil Salad
Braised Veal Chops
with Mushrooms
Sticky Potatoes
Green Peas and Onions
Fruited Raspberry Gelatin
Coffee Tea Milk

All measurements are level unless otherwise noted. Recipes are prepared to serve 4 to 6.

Braised Veal Chops with Mushrooms: Rub 6 good-sized, veal shoulder chops with a mixture of 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. marjoram, 1 tsp. minced onion, 1/2 tsp. lemon juice and 1/2 tsp. powdered onion. Brown all over in vegetable oil.

Remove to a low baking dish that can go to table.

Remove the stems from 1/2 lb. washed mushrooms and cut in thin crosswise slices. Sauté in the fat left from the meat.

Add 1 c. hot water and 1 beef bouillon cube. Pour over the mushrooms. Cover. Braise in a moderate oven, 350°F. about 1 hr., or until fork-tender.

Fifteen minutes before the chops will be done, brush with vegetable oil, then dusted with salt and pepper.

Serve from the baking dish. TRICK OF THE CHEF
Combine equal amounts asparagus cooked in 1-in. lengths and green peas. Season with butter and a little dried mint.

CHILDREN'S CORNER

Mother Goose's Broom

—It Moved Too Fast For Pickle Poo—

By MAX TRELL

"Now and then," said Mr. Punch to Knarf and Hand, the Shadows with the Turned-About Names, "some strange things happen late at night when everyone is asleep."

"Take, for instance, what happened one night last week to Pickle Poo, the Poodle."

"What happened to Pickle Poo, the Poodle?" Knarf asked.

"I'll tell you," said Mr. Punch, "but I'm sure you won't believe it."

"I'll believe it," said Knarf. "I'll try to believe it," said Hand.

"This is the story that Mr. Punch told."

Fast Asleep

"Everyone in the house was fast asleep when Pickle Poo dozed near the back door, suddenly heard a whistling, frisking, swishing noise in the air."

"He opened his eyes at once, and looked around."

"Now, ordinarily Pickle Poo didn't hear noises like that."

"He might hear a creaking, squeaking noise. That might come from the boards in the floor or the steps. Or he might hear a banging, whanging noise. That would come from the wind blowing against the windows. Or he might hear a rustling, whistling noise. That might come from the drapes and the curtains."

Louder And Clearer

"But a whistling, frisking, swishing noise like that, he had never before heard. And though he peered through the darkness, he could see absolutely nothing! And all this while the strange noise grew louder and clearer and nearer."

"It can't be a Cat," said Pickle. "Pickle himself can't be a Mouse. It can't be a Bat. It can't be a Mosquito. It can't be anything at all. I'll just go to sleep again and see what happens."

"So Pickle Poo started to go to sleep again, with one eye open, when, all of a sudden, something whistled near the back door, suddenly heard a whistling, frisking, swishing noise in the air."

"He opened his eyes at once, and looked around."

"Now, ordinarily Pickle Poo didn't hear noises like that."

"He might hear a creaking, squeaking noise. That might come from the boards in the floor or the steps. Or he might hear a banging, whanging noise. That would come from the wind blowing against the windows. Or he might hear a rustling, whistling noise. That might come from the drapes and the curtains."

"But a whistling, frisking, swishing noise like that, he had never before heard. And though he peered through the darkness, he could see absolutely nothing! And all this while the strange noise grew louder and clearer and nearer."

"It can't be a Cat," said Pickle. "Pickle himself can't be a Mouse. It can't be a Bat. It can't be a Mosquito. It can't be anything at all. I'll just go to sleep again and see what happens."

"So Pickle Poo started to go to sleep again, with one eye open, when, all of a sudden, something whistled near the back door, suddenly heard a whistling, frisking, swishing noise in the air."

"He opened his eyes at once, and looked around."

"Now, ordinarily Pickle Poo didn't hear noises like that."

"He might hear a creaking, squeaking noise. That might come from the boards in the floor or the steps. Or he might hear a banging, whanging noise. That would come from the wind blowing against the windows. Or he might hear a rustling, whistling noise. That might come from the drapes and the curtains."

"But a whistling, frisking, swishing noise like that, he had never before heard. And though he peered through the darkness, he could see absolutely nothing! And all this while the strange noise grew louder and clearer and nearer."

Broom swept Pickle Poo into a corner.

"It went sweeping around all by itself," said Knarf, growled. "Pickle started, backed, growled. He sprung at it. He rushed around it. The broom turned and whacked him over the head. It swept him into a corner. It went sweeping down the hallway with Pickle Poo racing after it."

"Pickle Poo almost caught the broom but it dodged out of his way and swept into the playroom. Again Pickle followed it. Just as he was about to leap at it again, it disappeared quickly as a flash into an open book lying on the table."

"And that was the last that Pickle saw of it, until the next morning."

"And did Pickle Poo see the broom again the next morning?" Knarf asked.

Mr. Punch nodded.

Inside The Book
"It was inside the book," he said. "The name of the book was Mother Goose and there, on the open page, was a picture of the broom with Mother Goose herself riding on it!"

"It seemed to Pickle Poo as he looked at the picture that Old Mother Goose looked out at him and said: 'Did you see my broom whistling, frisking and sweeping through the house last night?'"

Knarf said to Mr. Punch: "It's a wonderful story and I believe every word of it."

"I believe almost every word of it," said Hand. "But I think it's a wonderful story, too."

Rupert and the Truant—21

Mr. Hippo looks at the place where the doll had been in case its price ticket had fallen off. "No, there's no sign of any price," he murmurs. "It's all very strange. I don't remember seeing the thing before, but how could I have such a large beautifully made doll in the shop and then forget it? You two wait here and I'll send in my bookkeeper. He'll know all about it." And he walks out, leaving Rupert and Podgy alone. "I do hope I can buy it," says Podgy. "I'm more sure than ever that it would be like it."

And clothes for a big girl?

"I spend about £10,000 a year on my clothes, as I never appear in the same gown at two different night-clubs. And I am buying all my summer suits in London—ah!" [she means straight] "dresses with long jackets."

Jocasta Innes

WORLD TITLE ELIMINATION FIGHT

Al Asuncion To Meet Gilroy For Right To Take On Halimi

London, May 31.

An unofficial final eliminator for the bantamweight championship of the world will take place on Tuesday night at London's Empire Pool at Wembley.

The fight will be between Al Asuncion, champion of the Philippines, and Ireland's Freddie Gilroy, champion of Great Britain and the British Empire.

Gilroy was originally scheduled to meet Italy's dead-end, former world champion, Mario D'Amico, but when the Italian pulled out through injury, promoter Jack Solomons promptly snatched up the Filipino after his good showing against Alphonse Halimi, the world champion.

This ten-round bout can be considered an eliminator for the world title for Mr. Solomons has promised Gilroy a match with Halimi if he wins. On the other hand, if Asuncion wins, he is virtually certain to get a re-

Intriguing Contest

Tuesday night's encounter is a most intriguing contest for both boxers are unknown in London. Yet, although the defeat by the British champion, he has never fought in the capital. There will be a full house to see it for all 10,000 seats have been sold.

In addition to the Asuncion-Gilroy bout, the customers will see an eagerly-awaited contest between Scotsman Bobby Nell, new British featherweight champion, and Terry Spinks, Olympic flyweight champion, whose youth has so far prevented him from fighting for the title. Nell and Spinks meet in a ten-rounds no-title fight.

As an appetizer, the spectators will also see Dave Rent, new British heavyweight hope who is under Al Wells's care in the United States, in action for the second time in Britain, against Frederico Friso of Italy, in another ten-rounder.

Fireworks

The Asuncion-Gilroy meeting is expected to provide plenty of fireworks for both boxers are similar in style, both are aggressive and both carry punches. The Filipino was worried that the Irishman might be another Leo Espinosa, that is to say a boxer who darts in, scores and then back-pedals round the ring. Asuncion does not like that type of boxer but he has been reassured on this point. The Irishman, typical of his race, loves to fight it out.

The snag from the Philippine point of view is that Gilroy is a southpaw and Asuncion has never met one before. His manager says he will overcome this by boxing close but that remains to be seen. Asuncion would not be the first boxer to be worried by an "other-way round" opponent.

From the point of view of experience, there is very little in it. Gilroy has had only 16 fights but is unbeaten. Asuncion has lost three of his 22 "pro" bouts.

Six Years Younger

There is a difference in age, the Irishman, at 23, being six years than the Asian boxer. However, the two have something in common: both have beaten Peter Keenan, former British Champion, inside the distance. Asuncion knocked out the Scot when he was in his prime—in nine rounds in December 1956. Gilroy beat him for the British and Empire titles in 11 rounds in Belfast, early in January of this year and Keenan, already past his best, retired immediately afterwards.

90th Appearance

Ken Barrington and Alan Moss have twice played for England and now return to the fold, as they deserve on their recent form.

As expected, the side has been built round the two successful batsmen. In Australia, May and Cowdrey, and the two successful bowlers, Statham and Trueman, wicket-keeper Evans who will be making his 90th Test appearance. His ambition is to play 100 times for his country and as he is only first cricketer to attain that distinction.

On this day Evans is still England's best wicket-keeper, and for that reason he maintains his place, irrespective of his decline as a batsman.

England will continue to carry a long tail with the last five places occupied by Evans, Trueman, Statham, Greenough and Moss. No doubt, this was something the selectors would have liked to avoid, but there is a general shortage of all-rounders, especially with both Bailey and Dexter pronounced unfit.

COOK JOINS 'THE FASTEST HUMANS'

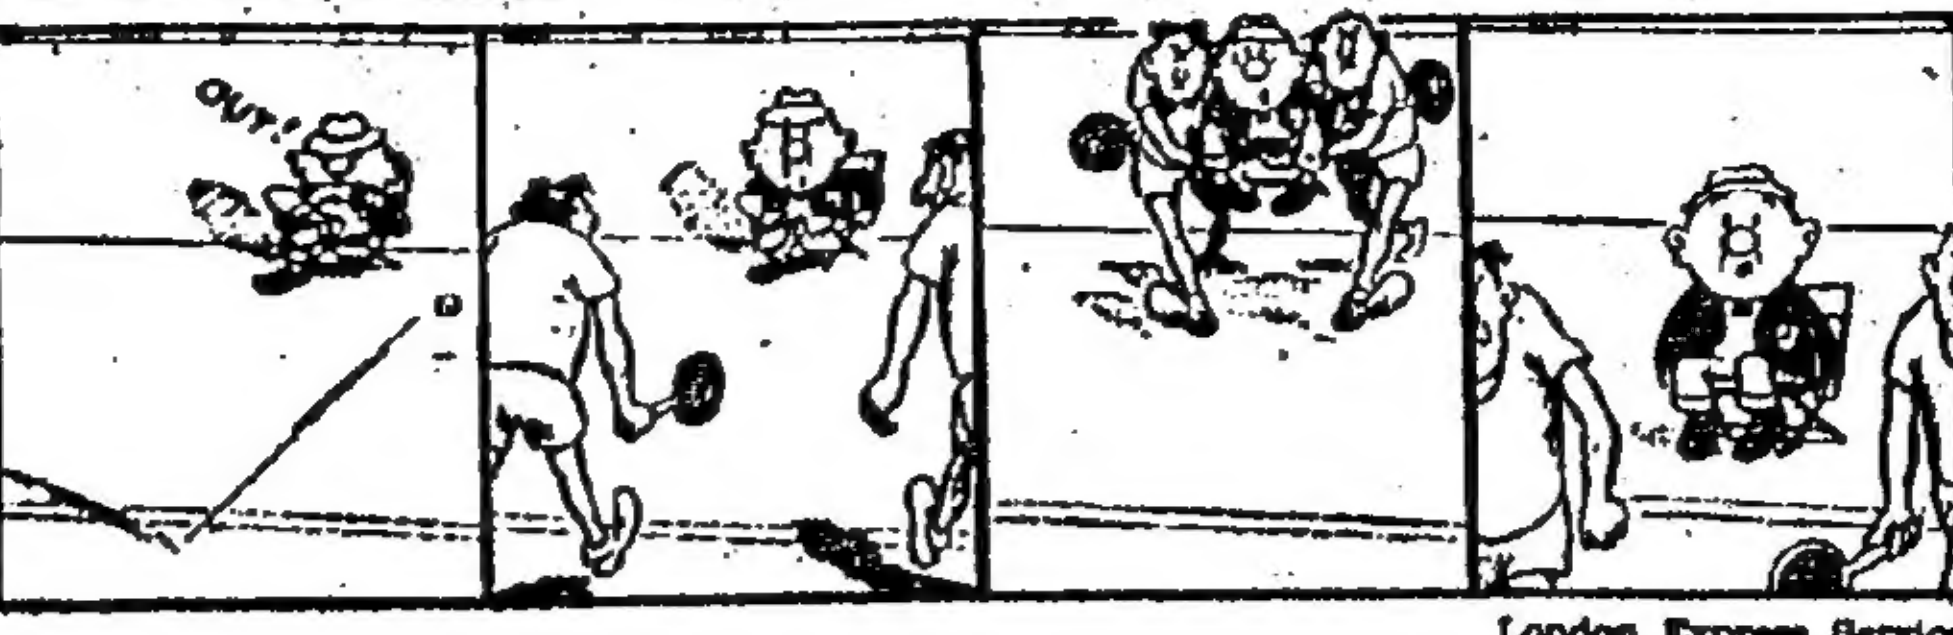

Modesto, May 31.

Roscoe Cook, a lad who admittedly "ran better than I knew how," moved in today with the elite sprinters of the world—the fastest humans who have been clocked in 9.3 seconds for the 100-yard dash.

Cook, a 20-year-old sophomore from University of Oregon, got in the select group the hard way. He beat Olympic champion, Bobby Maxwell, world record co-holder Ray Norton and a host of other top athletes in the California Meet last night. —UPI.

SPORTING SAM

by Reg. Wootton

ENGLAND SELECT 'NEW LOOK' CRICKET TEST TEAM AGAINST INDIA

Three New Caps Included

London, May 31.

England's cricket selectors have made an almost clean sweep in rebuilding the team for the first of this season's five Tests against India at Nottingham starting on Thursday.

After England's dismal display in Australia last winter a purge was anticipated and sure enough it came. This may be due in part to the fact that even the Selection Committee has been reconstituted. Gubby Allen remains chairman, but Herbert Sutcliffe and Doug Insole, the reigning Essex captain have been called in to help.

The final selection meeting today lasted nearly four hours. This is the team that was chosen:

P. B. H. May, Captain (Surrey) 23, K. F. Barrington (Surrey) 23, M. C. Cowdrey (Kent) 20, T. G. Evans (Kent) 28, T. Greenough (Lancashire) 27, M. J. Horton (Worcestershire) 25, C. A. Milson (Gloucestershire) 21, A. E. M. Middlemass (21), J. B. Statham (Lancashire) 23, K. Taylor (Yorkshire) 23, F. S. Trueman (Yorkshire) 23—12th man: G. Pullar (Lancashire) 23, (for first two days).

Striking Feature

The striking feature of this eleven is the absence of such notable names as Laker, Lock, Tyson, Bailey, Graveney, Watkinson and Richardson. All have been discarded. Even Dexter and Mortimore, the two men who were flown out to Australia in an emergency to reinforce the side have been passed over, along with Subba Row.

Mr. Allen stated that Bailey and Dexter were not considered as neither is fully fit for bowling.

Only six of the 10 men who went to Australia are retained, namely, May, the captain, Cowdrey, Statham, Trueman, Evans and Milson. May's position as captain has been clarified, for the selectors have now appointed him skipper for all five matches against India, so obviously he is the favourite to lead England next winter.

Joe Brown to Defend World Title

New York, May 31.

Joe Brown attempts his seventh defence of the world lightweight crown and Nigerian Dick Tiger—middleweight champion of the British Empire—makes his United States debut this week.

Brown, of New Orleans, 33, is favoured at 13-5 to turn back the challenge of Italian Paolo Rosta at Uline Arena, Washington, D.C., on Wednesday night.

At Madison Square Garden on Friday night, 29-year-old Tiger will launch his American campaign for a shot at the world 100-pound title by meeting veteran Hory Calhoun of St. Albans, New York in a 10-rounder. Calhoun is favoured at 7-5.

Pace Bowlers

For years Indian cricket has been devoid of genuine fast bowling, and their uncertainty against pace has been taken into account. To reinforce, Statham and Trueman, Moss has come back to the fold. The Middlesex man's inclusion will keep them fresh in short spells, and he gains preference over Tyson and Lander.

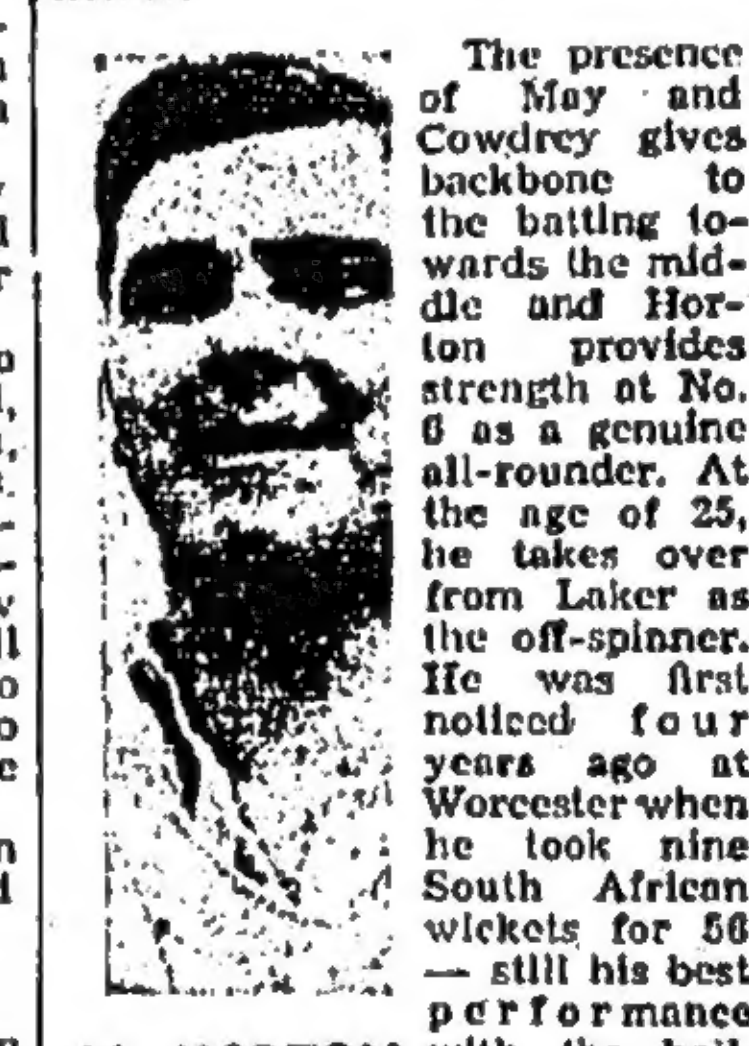

A leg-break bowler has at last been produced in Tom Greenough. Not for seven years (when India were last here) has England included a right-arm leg-spinner. Since then most of the spin has been supplied by Laker, Lock, Appleby and Wardle, but with the general improvement of pitches this season and the need to look ahead to the visit to West Indies, Greenough is the type England need.

Finally one notices the almost total disappearance of the left-hander from this new England team. Apart from Statham, the 12th man Pullar is the only left-handed batsman and with the passing of Lock, there is no left-arm bowler. This team will start off hot favourites against India, whose side, however, is little better than mediocre. —AFP.

Taylor is a fine cricketer. He does not believe in allowing the bowler to dictate to him and if he gives England a good start by taking the initiative the runs should flow freely to the delight of the spectators, tired of so much negative play in modern Test cricket.

Another factor in Taylor's favour is his superb fielding. He can also enter the attack as a spinner, an asset shared by Barrington, Barrington, who will presumably bat in No. 3 position (as he does for Surrey) possesses a fine array of forcing strokes and he, too, is a grand fielder.

M. HORTON with the ball.

Joe Brown to Defend World Title

New York, May 31.

Joe Brown attempts his seventh defence of the world lightweight crown and Nigerian Dick Tiger—middleweight champion of the British Empire—makes his United States debut this week.

Brown, of New Orleans, 33, is favoured at 13-5 to turn back the challenge of Italian Paolo Rosta at Uline Arena, Washington, D.C., on Wednesday night.

At Madison Square Garden on Friday night, 29-year-old Tiger will launch his American campaign for a shot at the world 100-pound title by meeting veteran Hory Calhoun of St. Albans, New York in a 10-rounder. Calhoun is favoured at 7-5.

For the Brown-Rosta title fight at Washington, promoter Goldo Ahearn expects a sellout of 8,500 and a gate of $60,000. Rosta of Italy and New York, 31, is the harder puncher. He was unbeaten in his last nine starts although he was held to one draw. —UPI.

THE STANLEY SHIELD South China Tame All Opposition To Win Another Title

By I. M. MACTAVISH

It was an all-South China occasion when the concluding rounds of the Stanley Shield were played last night. The Chinese stars who have just won their third double championship added the Stanley Shield to their collection... and they did it by beating their own second team in the Final!!!

All in all it was a grand achievement by the South China organisation but such a finish to the competition did not quite provide the fans with the sort of climax they wanted and thousands left the ground before the final game was played. They gave the second string no chance against the Yiu Cheuk-yin brigade. They were, as usual, right. If the final lacked anything in attraction the spectators got plenty to think and shout about in the earlier rounds... and if they happened to be KMB supporters their thoughts must have been pretty bitter.

Inglorious Season

Be reassured. The resounding crash which echoed through the Happy Valley area around half past eight last night was not an explosion... it was not an earthquake... it was the last shreds of KMB's self-respect being blown sky-high. The Bussan's inglorious season came to a degrading close when, before a capacity crowd at the Hongkong Football Club Stadium they were thoroughly humiliated by seven unknown youngsters from South China's reserve side and to make their exit from the 1959 Stanley Shield Competition.

Don't get any idea that this was a fluke result. It was nothing of the kind and KMB, who had scraped through the earlier round by the skin of their teeth, were soundly thrashed by a collection of young players who cared nothing for reputations. The up and coming Caroline Hill side ran for miles in pursuit of the ball while the KMB 'stars' stood waiting for the breakers they were never able to create. The big names in the line-up only Wai-kin looked as though he really cared very much whether his side won or lost and, but for several brilliant saves by the goalkeeper, the two-nil margin by which the Bussan lost would have been much more decisive.

Good Value

The packed stands at the Colony's most intimate stadium got very good value for their money although strangely enough as soon as it was known that the final would be contested by the two South China sides the fans got up and started to leave the ground in their thousands. It was a fantastic spectacle to see spectators who had come with the sole purpose of seeing the final of the competition leaving before it was played.

The evening's programme of seven games got under way with the Army tackling South China 'B'. The soldiers never played the right kind of football to succeed in a seven-side match and any chance they had of winning disappeared when they lost a player for a time during the second half. They were finally beaten by the odd goal in three... and the South China side had claimed their first senior scalp.

The second match brought together KMB's All-Star seven and Sing Tao's 'B' team. It was the Tigers who played like big timers. The Bussan were lacking in spirit and when full time was reached the score-sheet was all square. Extra time of five minutes each way was played and eventually—aided by a couple of strange acts by the referee—KMB won by two goals to nil.

Next it was the turn of South China's senior representatives and they had little trouble in disposing of a plucky collection of Tientsin players by three goals to nil.

Greatest of Ease

First of all South China's juniors had their moment of well-deserved glory as they eliminated the sadly tarnished KMB 'A' team by two clear goals and then the South China seniors ambled over the Sing Tao 'A' hurdle with the greatest of ease. Their three-nil victory did not give even a hint of the Champions' overall superiority.

The final between the two South China teams was played in a half-empty stadium. It was an anticlimax. Goals by Mok Chun-wah, Kwok Kam-hung, Yiu Cheuk-yin and Ho Chung-wan gave the 'A' team a clear cut victory by four goals to one... and a final thought. Something must be done about the lights at the Club Stadium. Last night there were great black shadow patches on the playing field while some of the ill-directed lamps were lighting up the spectators in the stands. They should be adjusted before the game tomorrow night.

CHESS

by LEONARD BARDEN

Here is one of former world champion Alexander Alekhine's brilliant wins. 1 P-Q4, Q-K5, 2 K-K3, P-Q3, 3 P-K3, P-Q3, 4 P-Q4, P-K3, 5 Q-K3, B-K2, 6 B-K3, B-K3, 7 K-K3, K-K3, 8 B-K3, B-K3, 9 Q-K3, Q-K3, 10 P-K4, P-K3, 11 K-K3, P-K3, 12 K-K3, P-K3, 13 P-K3, P-K3, 14 P-K3, P-K3, 15 P-K3, P-K3, 16 P-K3, P-K3, 17 P-K3, P-K3, 18 Q-K3, P-K3, 19 P-K3, P-K3, 20 P-K3, P-K3.

London Express Service

Pittsburgh Pirates Score Double Win Over Cincinnati

New York, May 31.

Smoky Burgess and Bob Skinner tried to outdo each other with a spectacular pair of batting shows today that enabled the Pittsburgh Pirates to sweep a doubleheader from the Cincinnati Reds, 6-2 and 14-11.

Burgess banged a pair of homers against his former teammate in the opener, then came off the bench and delivered a pinch three-run homer to snap an 11-1 tie in the seventh inning of the night game.

Skinner led off two homers in the second game.

Don Hook had a pretty fair day, too. He hit two homers in the opener and another in the night, winding up with six hits for the day.

The Milwaukee Braves split a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Phillies. Philadelphia won the opener, 6-0, and Milwaukee the night game, 2-1.

Robin Roberts pitched a four-hitter to beat Lew Burdette and gain his third victory in the first game as Wally Post and Willie Jones drove in five runs between them. Warren Spahn limited the Phils to four hits in registering his seventh victory in the nightcap.

Wes Covington's two-run hit in the first inning off Ray Semproch was all the margin Pittsburgh needed in gaining the 25th triumph of his career.

That total ties him with Carl Hubbell in number of victories.

Bases Loaded

Antonelli struck out 11 men and drove in three runs as he ran his record to 7-2. He led off the bases in the ninth, however, and Miller relieved him with two out. Dale Long left him one show of the year leaving him one show of the Major League record.

Stu Miller halted a ninth inning rally by the Chicago Cubs to preserve a 6-3 victory for Johnny Antonelli and the San Francisco Giants.

Results of today's games were:

American League
New York 6, Boston 3-4-0
Washington 6, Detroit 2-1-0
Pittsburgh 6, Cincinnati 2-1-0
Philadelphia 6, Milwaukee 2-1-0
St. Louis 6, Chicago 2-1-0
Cleveland 6, Kansas City 2-1-0
Detroit 6, Baltimore 2-1-0
Pittsburgh 6, Cincinnati 2-1-0
Philadelphia 6, Milwaukee 2-1-0
St. Louis 6, Chicago 2-1-0
Cleveland 6, Kansas City 2-1-0
Detroit 6, Baltimore 2-1-0

National League
Pittsburgh 6, Cincinnati 2-1-0
Philadelphia 6, Milwaukee 2-1-0
St. Louis 6, Chicago 2-1-0
Cleveland 6, Kansas City 2-1-0
Detroit 6, Baltimore 2-1-0
Pittsburgh 6, Cincinnati 2-1-0
Philadelphia 6, Milwaukee 2-1-0
St. Louis 6, Chicago 2-1-0
Cleveland 6, Kansas City 2-1-0
Detroit 6, Baltimore 2-1-0

By Order of the Stewards, A. E. ARNOLD, Secretary.

Cold
Even the slightest cold is to be feared. Do not let it spread! Defeat it from the start by taking 1 or 2 CAFASPIN.

CAFASPIN

THE GAMBOLS

YES, YES, YES, I CAN'T TALK ANY MORE NOW. I'M COMING BACK WITH MY OWN INTO THE OFFICE.

SIT DOWN FREDDIE, PLEASE. YES, YES, YES, OF COURSE. I'LL COME BACK WITH MY OWN INTO THE OFFICE.

NO, I AM NOT MARRIED. I'M COMING BACK WITH MY OWN INTO THE OFFICE.

WELL, THEN LET ME GET YOU TO MARRY ME.

by Barry ADLaby

GAS IS TOPS

SAYS MR. THERM

Dramatic Finish To Golf Turney

Louisville, May 31.

Don Whit, a 29-year-old Californian, survived a dramatic finish to win the $20,000 Kentucky Derby Open Golf today with a 274 when Jim Feres missed a five-foot putt on the final green which would have sent them into a sudden death play-off. —UPI.

Brazilians Win

Amstard, May 31.

The Corinthians of Brazil beat an Antwerp selection by three goals to two in a football match at Pechelhof Stadium. —UPI.

HKCC Head Week's Lawn Bowls Upset Victories

FOUR TEAMS SUFFER FIRST DEFEATS OF THE SEASON

Four more teams lost their undefeated records in Saturday's lawn bowls league matches, which were featured by no fewer than four major upsets. Only five teams, three in the first division and one each in the second and third divisions still remain unbeaten at the end of four weeks' play.

To Hongkong Cricket Club's second division team went the honour of scoring the most commendable win of the week. Last in the league standings, they broke their "duck" for the season with a brilliant 4-1 victory over second-placed Police Recreation Club "A", who had hitherto won all their three previous matches.

Largely responsible for the Cricket Club's triumph were their four of H. Gowing, A. Pinnell, W. Edwards and L. C. Kew, who paved the way with their 28-11 win over G. Mills, J. J. Kellner, R. H. Walker and W. H. Cotton. At the end of the 13th head, they were actually leading by 24-3.

Almost Full Points

N. Fahy, J. Canning, N. Heston and F. Marshall were well on the way to emulating the feat of their clubmates when they led E. A. Fisher, D. Maxwell, R. G. Laurel and G. Mills by 13-3 at the end of the 10th head, but were then struck by a reverse from then onwards. After being challenged to 13-10, they came back with a spell of eight shots in five heads to lead by 21-10 and finally complete the victory on their side with a score of 22-15.

The Cricket Club nearly succeeded in even taking full points from this game. Pitted against the Police team's strongest four of R. Yu, C. Wilcox, R. L. Russell and F. W. Hollands, HKCC combination of D. W. Leitch, H. Bone, N. Craig and A. Graham fought back from a 7-14 deficit at the end of the 11th head to score a total of 13 shots on the next five heads and lead by 20-14.

The Police, however, retaliated by scoring 11 shots on the next five successive heads to win by 25-20.

Grand Victory

Another grand victory was that of Police Recreation Club "B" over the reputed Hongkong Police Sports Association twelve. S. H. Marving, O'Connor, A. McArthur and J. Bennett set the pace by taking a 7-0 lead over J. Dempsey, B. Stevens, J. Duffy and J. H. Goodman and could not be stopped after that, leading all the way to a final 21-12 score.

MacLennan, T. H. Sobey, G. R. Dunning and E. Lonsdale also played no little part in their side's triumph. They kept up all the way up to the 15th head, against H. Flinney, W. Gillies, R. McKenna and H. B. Dewar, to lead by only one shot at 13-12. Some spectacular bowling by them on the next three heads gave them a one, a two and a five and a lead of 21-12, which they eventually took to 22-17.

The HKPSA four of G. Wall, J. Bokall, T. Poyton and Ken Bodie made a brave effort to carry their sliver in the last five heads of their game. Leading by 20-3 at the end of the 16th head, they were forced to concede six shots on three of the remaining five heads to win by only 22-17, which was insufficient to cover the 23-shot deficit on their other two rinks.

Third Upset

The third upset of the week-end saw the third division Hongkong Electric Recreation go down to Stanley Club at Stanley by a 4-1 margin in their first defeat. By failing to take more than one point from this game, HERC missed the opportunity of overtaking the idle Kowloon Dock Club twelve, who have so far won all their three matches, at the head of the league table.

Key men of Stanley Club's success were J. Burns, A. Salmon, B. Singh and F. Almsworth. After being held to 5-7 on the first 10 heads by J. F. Barron, R. DeRome, W. McFarlane and W. Stoker, they made a spectacular comeback in the second half. Two five, two three and five singles on nine of the remaining five heads by them not only gave them a 20-11 rink victory, but also put the Stanley side well on the way to their win.

HERC's I. McKelvie, E. Poulson, J. K. Mundy and A. G. Gardner put up some creditable efforts in the last eight heads of the game to pull their team through, but despite scoring 11 shots on seven of the heads, they ended up with a 25-14 margin which was good enough for only one point.

Featured in the fourth and last upset of the week were the

By ROBERT TAY

Hongkong Football Club third division team, who after having won their two previous games, were surprisingly beaten by newly-placed Craignower Cricket Club.

In addition to PRC "A", HKFC and HKFC, Filipino Club's second division side also met with their first defeat when they lost to Kowloon Cricket Club at Cox Road by 4-1. Both teams, being well up in the league table, the match was as expected a close one throughout with the cricketers emerging narrow winners by four shots on the aggregate.

The first division matches of the week went more or less according to form. IRC "A", Kowloon Dock Club and Recreation "A" all maintaining their unbeaten records.

Tricky Green

The only surprise was the overwhelming margin of 5-0 victory chalked up by the Indians over the Kowloon Bowling Green twelve, which enabled the former to wrest the lead in the first division league table from Kowloon Dock Club.

The Indians were full value for their wins on two rinks, but were a shade lucky to collect their third rink point as well. On an uneven IRC green, rendered extremely tricky by a morning rain, the KBGC twelve were at sea throughout the whole game, and at the end of the match were still figuring why some woods went straight while others took a tremendous swing even when being given the same green and weight.

With skips J. Hoosen and A. K. Minu playing exceptionally well, the opposing KBGC fours skipped by P. Hughes and T. Kavanagh were never able to make any headway on the tricky green, being led all the way from start to finish.

Only Fight

The only KBGC four to put up a fight were A. D. Duffy, S. Eichenro, A. Eastman and M. E. Purvis. With front man Duffy and Eichenro drawing well in the first half, the KBGC four were having slightly the better of the IRC four of R. Omar, A. B. Kitchell and M. B. Hassan until the 8th head, when they cracked up after leading 6-3. Six successive singles and one four put the Indians into a 13-6 lead and despite a good recovery by the Kowloonites up to 14-16, the last head saw the home four clinch the match with a two.

At Hung Hom, Kowloon Dock Club were full value for their 4-1 win over Craignower Cricket Club. The Valley Club, were actually, lucky to get away with one point from this match against opponents who once produced steady and consistent bowls.

Against S. Telford, H. Lapsley, A. M. Banks, and A. G. Skeoch, the CCC four of P. R. Rag, F. Lee, G. Hong Choy and S. Leonard were trading by 10-17 on the 18th head when a brilliant shot by skip Leonard gave his four a six. With a 16 of two in his

League Standings

First Division
	P	W	L	Pts
IRC "A"	4	4	0	16
KDC	4	4	0	17
Recreation "A"	4	4	0	17
KCC	4	3	1	12
CCC	4	2	2	11
KBGC	4	2	2	10
FC	4	1	3	7
TC	4	0	4	3½
IRC "B"	4	0	4	2½
Second Division
	P	W	L	Pts
HKFC	3	3	0	14
PRC "A"	4	3	1	13½
KCC	4	3	1	10
CCC	4	2	2	9½
PRC "B"	4	2	2	9
HKPSA	4	1	3	7
HKCC	4	1	3	0
USRC	4	0	4	4
Third Division
	P	W	L	Pts
KDC	3	3	0	14
HERC	4	3	1	14
SC	4	3	1	12
HKFC	4	3	1	10½
IRC	4	2	2	10
KBGC	4	1	3	7½
TC	4	1	3	0
HKCC	4	0	4	3

favour, Leonard made a perfect two-foot trail of the jack for the count. Encouraged by this success, the Valley bowlers came back with a three and a four on the last two heads to edge out their opponents by 21-18 and give Craignower their only point.

Recreation "A" were given quite a scare by IRC "B" before emerging winners by a 4-1 margin and by only seven shots on the aggregate. The Indians, however, had the satisfaction of scoring a seven against their reputed opponents.

This was in the 20th head of the match between S. M. Rumjohn's and J. E. Norrish's fours. The IRC No. 3 Bunny Abbas took the jack into the ditch for a count of four and skip S. M. Rumjohn added three more shots, one being a promoted wood.

COOL PETER PUTTS AND PITCHES HIMSELF INTO STARDOM

He Can Go Higher Still, If..

By FRANK PENNINK

A rare and refreshing thing it is to find a young British face at the top of the Swallow and Penfold scores list. In recent years this feat has only been achieved by Peter Allis, Bernard Hunt and the late John Pritchett.

Peter Butler, aged 26, dark and tall, with a fair method—he is a little flat and fast with a good deal of easy-kept cool control of his nerves and his scullion once his putter and accurate pitching had put him into a winning position.

Butler, professional at Harborne, Birmingham, won the £1,000 prize at Barton, Edinburgh, in yet another tense finish.

A brilliant final round of 66, the lowest of the event, gave him a 72-hole aggregate of 280 and a lead of one stroke over Harry Westman and two over Dai Rees.

Formidable

Not until the 18th too did Westman and Rees realise how formidable was Butler's challenge, though he had finished 20 minutes earlier.

There was nothing but a tiny blackboard to give the score so no more than one per cent of the crowd knew the position either.

Some 6,000 spectators watched Westman and Rees fall at this last, 232-yard hole. Westman needed a three to tie and Rees a two. Both missed the green—and their putts—for four.

A score of seven under fours with five to play would have frightened most young men, but Butler cooled off—the figures 4, 4, 5, 4, 4, and dropped only one shot to par. Not good enough, perhaps, to win outright, but Rees and Westman and to a lesser extent Norman Drew, who played with Butler, all made slips over this final stretch.

He must be infinitely encouraged by this win over the masters of the game, and I would like to see what he can do with the help of some great teacher to chip the rough edges off his technique.

Peter Butler and the Swallow-Penfold trophy.

'A Great Worker—That's Butler'

By JOHN ROSS

OLD Bill Button, at 68 as a golf-wise professional as you will find anywhere, smiled happily as he hoisted his club's flag for the umpteenth time in his 25 years at Harborne recently.

For the flag was flying for his partner, Peter Butler, and his £1,000 Swallow and Penfold triumph.

'Nonsense'

The old Mr B. does the shop work. Young Mr B. does the playing.

Said Button, full of local pride: "They are saying that young Peter is new to winning tournaments."

"That's nonsense. He won the Midland Open title twice in the past three years. He has been Warwickshire Assistant champion five times, Midlands Assistant champion and Warwickshire Open champion."

After getting that off his proud chest, professional Button, who can still think Harborne to 72 strokes, told me of the day that golf's latest man-of-gold came into the business.

"He joined me straight from school," said Mr Button. "Didn't hardly know one end of the club years. Now that it has come, anything can happen."

FOUR D. JONES . . .

FERD'NAND

By Mik

NANCY

By Ernie Bushmiller

BRICK BRADFORD

By Paul Norris

Sports Diary

TODAY

Bowls: Colony Open Singles: Preliminary Round matches at KDC, HKFC, KBGC, PRC.
Tennis: Men's "A" Division: SCAA v CCC (2) v CMC (1), Urban (1) v HKFC.
Men's "A" Division: LRC v CCC, Recreation v KCC.
Final Round of Barry Cup, Shot-O.
Swimming: Agriann Pool, Gun Club Hill, 4 p.m.

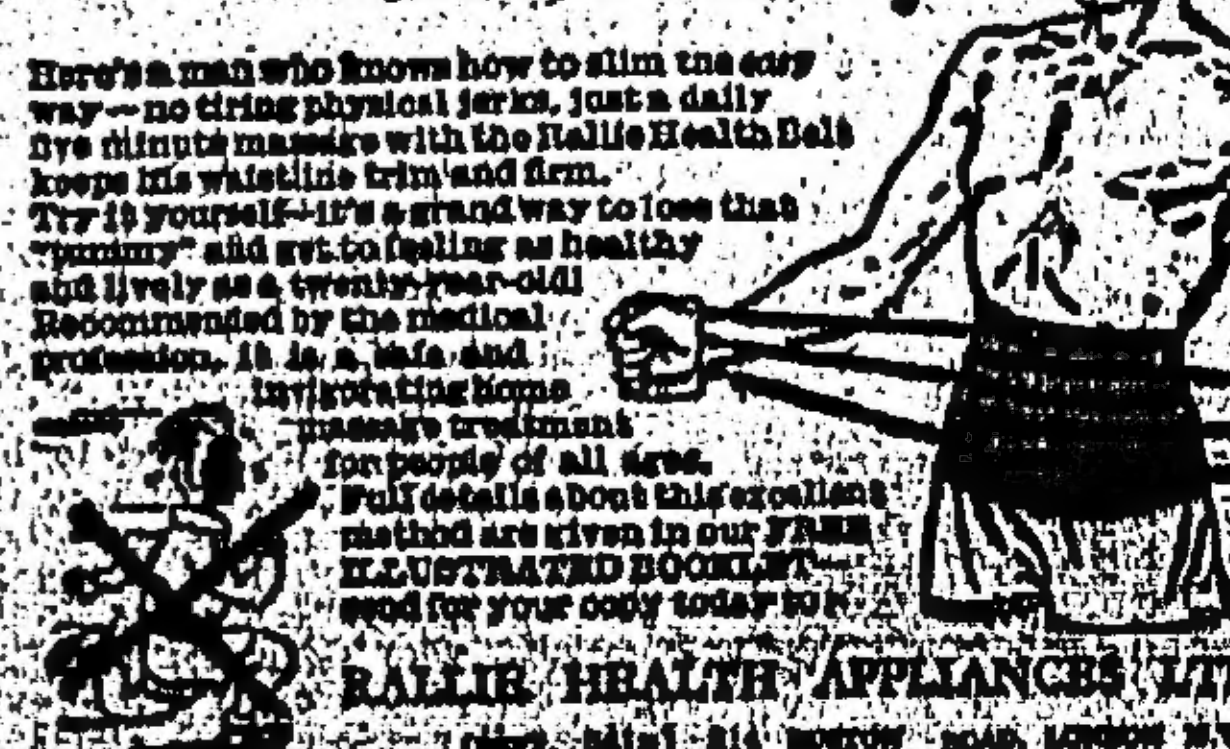

GAUTIER FRÈRES

COGNAC ALL OVER the WORLD

Sole Agents: SHEWAN, TOMES & CO. LTD.
9, ICE HOUSE STREET, HONG KONG
TEL: 27781, 34284, 28362

do you SLIM the hard way?

RALLIE HEALTH APPLIANCES LTD.
(Incorporated in Hong Kong)
111, Market Street, Hong Kong

SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING

THESE NEW WALLETES WILL FOIL THE PICKPOCKETS

THE activities of pickpockets throughout the world are likely to suffer a severe setback as a result of the invention by an English business man of a thief-proof wallet, designed to hold all foreign and British currency without folding.

This new aid to carefree travelling is the brainchild of Mr. H. Pearson Blackie, managing director of a firm in Wigan, Lancashire.

While holidaying hundreds of miles from home two years ago Mr. Blackie had the all too common experience of being "relieved" of his wallet, which contained all his immediate resources, on his return home he resolved to start his own private war on pickpockets and the new wallet is the result.

POPULARITY
Rapidly gaining in popularity in Britain and now available for export, the wallet operates in conjunction with an attachment unit which is firmly attached to the waistband of trousers, shorts or jeans. On the top side of the attachment unit and of the wallet there are zip runners which when fastened and locked make it impossible for the wallet or contents to be stolen.

The attachment unit is attached to a quarter of an inch below the top of the trousers; by this means the wallet rests comfortably inside the garment, and when turned outside, hangs down in front of the trousers for the owner to gain access to his money. It is of course necessary for the permanent but reasonably cheap attachment units to be attached on every garment on which the wallet is to be carried.

Made by skilled craftsmen the wallets are in leather. Another British firm is now working on the development of a waterproof zip fastener so that the wallets can be used in wet weather conditions. (Anthony Martin and Neil of Douglas Bank Works, Wigan, Lancashire, England.)

Tiny Paper Plant Fully Mechanised

Norwalk, Conn.
WHAT probably is the world's smallest paper mill—with a working force of one man—has now been fully mechanised.

Rudolph Bork, president of the R. F. Bork Co., which designs and builds loudspeakers for stereophonic and hi-fi systems, operates the mill in a corner of his factory. He makes his own paper for the speaker cones.

Developed by his organisation, the new machine lifts the paper to the mould that shapes the cones. Pulp, water and other necessary liquid are mixed in a metal trough with a rotary beater that looks like a mangle on an old steamroller.

Chemicals and a black dye are then added to the mixture, making and drying completes the process.

Although the paper mill is fully mechanised, its sole employee isn't out of work. It runs the new machine.—UPI.

Mothproofing For Woollens At Low Cost

As a result of research and tests carried out by a British company it is now possible to buy all forms of woollen goods completely mothproofed.

The development makes unnecessary annual mothproofing of knitwear, baby clothes, underwear, carpets, underclothes, soft furnishings, coats, suits, dresses and bedding.

The new product is applied by the manufacturer at the processing stage and is not suitable for domestic application. It is relatively low in cost and makes economically possible the mothproofing of the full range of woollen goods.

It cannot be detected on the wool and the mothproofed garments, nor is the product affected by long wear or the effects of sunlight. If applied under certain conditions laid down by the producing company the mothproofing effect is maintained after repeated washing or dry cleaning.

Carpet manufacturers have been making effective use of the product for some time. (Diam Chemical Co., 170 Piccadilly, London, W.1.)

Improved Packing Material Found

A NEW hair packaging material, described as possessing all the useful properties of rubberised hair has been announced by a Liverpool firm.

Some of the advantages of the new material, say the manufacturers, are that it is virtually unaffected by climatic conditions, is inert to most oils and solvents, has very good aging properties and it does not stain silver. The material is much harder than rubberised hair at comparable densities. The new material was produced after experiments with the British Government about the development of a cheaper and more efficient means of packing fragile products. It is used to protect the blower and stacks of land, sea and air travel. It has been used extensively already for Government contracts involving delivery of electronic and radio apparatus and other delicate equipment.

The new material is made with a new synthetic adhesive which binds the hair both mechanically and chemically. It is reinforcing the material and increasing its load-carrying capacity. (Kipco Products Ltd, Speke Hall Road, Liverpool, England.)

Scot Invents Road Safety Device

A SCOTTISH motor engineer, Mr Adam Crawford, of Central Garage, Motherwell, has invented a device which it is claimed will meet a very urgent need in present-day motoring and is likely to interest motorists and road safety organisations all over the world.

The device, which is being produced by an electrical engineering firm, can be fitted to a dashboard of any car and shows a green light when the motorist's lights are on. In operation, if any of the side or rear lights come on in its place and if there is a faulty connection resulting in a flickering light the green and red alternate.

With the large number of side lights which are fitted within the bodywork of the car it is becoming increasingly difficult for motorists to be sure that their lights are all on. The device is set for controlling five lamps but can be adjusted to suit a car with six lamps by increasing the tension of an adjusting screw. Whenever there is a drop in the current being consumed in the car the warning light on the dashboard changes over. (H. D. Howden Ltd, 73 Coronation Road, New Stevenston, Lanarkshire, Scotland.)

Sound Dishwasher

A DISHWASHER that uses sound waves to get the dishes clean was shown recently at the annual conference of the Institute of Radio Engineers. The dishwashers actually blast the dirt off and never chip a thing. It is done with high frequency sound waves at 40,000 cycles a second, sent through the water in pulses. The effect is that of compressing and decompressing the water, so that everything is washed gently in a few minutes.

Waste For Animals

At the University of California scientists have combined the disposal of city wastes with the production of animal fodder. A patent for the process has been granted. Sewage treatment ponds were used to grow algae, tiny plants rich in protein, fats and carbohydrates. The shallow ponds look like green growing fields.

Weekly Survey Of The American Economy

MOVE AGAINST INFLATION

Discount Rate Raised As Steel Industry Strike Looms Larger

New York, May 31.

The Federal Reserve Board last Thursday gave official indication of tight money to come when it raised the charge on loans from the Federal banking system to commercial houses from three to three and a half per cent.

The long-expected move, heralded by news of increasing scarcity of credit, raised the discount rate to the pre-recession level of August-November, 1957 when money was very tight. The measure, a possible hedge against returning inflation and the direct result of U.S. economic expansion so far this year, will go into effect on Monday in five Federal banks in the New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis and Dallas. But it was expected to spread throughout the country within a matter of days.

The Recovery
Meanwhile, with only one month to go, the possibility of steel industry strike loomed larger in the U.S. economic picture this past week. It brought the first tempering of an up to now optimistic expansionist view.

The "recovery" to expansion today still held true and the general view prevailed that any speculation as to the probability of a steel strike or its length was idle. The argument was that it was now too late to do anything about it since business plans on how to meet a steel strike must be well in the process of execution by now and the order books of the steel companies are filled.

Most observers said a third quarter slow-down of the general economy was a result of the steel uncertainty could virtually be taken for granted. They argued, however, that such a pause in the expansion would only be temporary, indeed welcome in some quarters.

Expectations

Other analysts jump the third quarter picture entirely in their expectation and based all their near-term outlook from now on the fourth quarter. Almost without exception they predicted the steel companies would hold to their stand that present labour contracts be extended for another year after the June 30 expiration date. This would make a strike in at least part of the industry virtually certain, unless the government intervenes.

With steel being consumed faster than had been generally expected and with the producers having failed for the past five consecutive weeks to keep to scheduled production levels, threat of steel shortages was becoming more real.

Steel makers said as the mid-year strike deadline approached, production rates will hold their present level, which is high, but won't go any higher. In fact, they look for a gradual decline of operating rates which has been in evidence for a month. Their prediction is based on what they term growing restlessness among steel workers. Steel mill sources say preparations for plant shutdowns for the July 1 deadline could start as early as mid-June if the strike is as serious then as it is now.

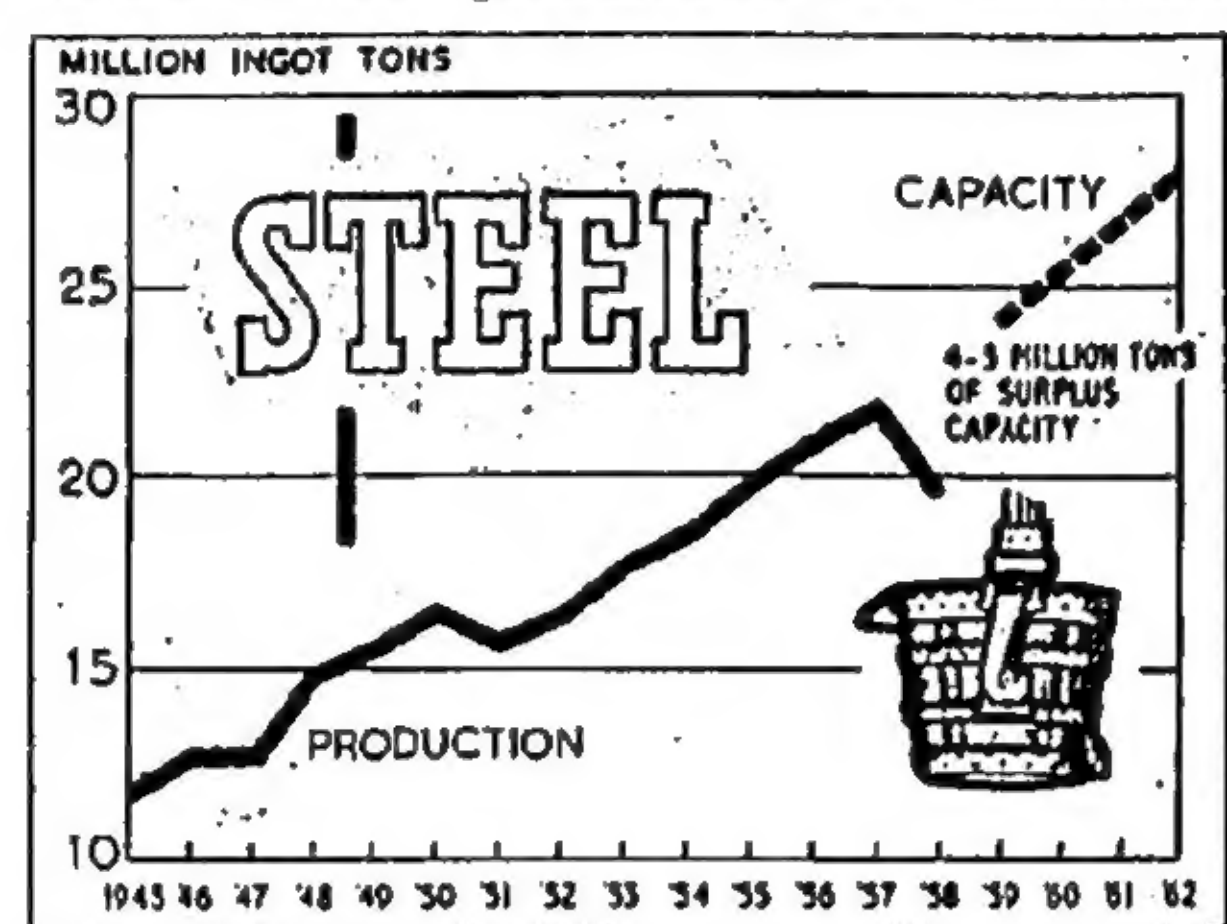

New High

Steel mills operated at 94.4 per cent of capacity last week. Production amounted to 2,644,000 tons. This was 13,000 tons above the previous week, but 66,000 tons short of the forecast. It was the fifth consecutive week in which actual production failed to keep to schedule. The forecast for the current week was 2,671,000 tons, up 94.5 per cent of capacity, which it accomplished, would set a new high. It was doubted that the industry will achieve this level.

What would happen, if a strike comes a month from now, is obvious to many. All steel companies report their order books are filled for third quarter and production can continue at present levels of about 90 per cent capacity, or just above. The strike could be an expensive proposition to both labour and management.

The surprisingly high demand for steel consumed in actual production as against inventory building comes from several factors which exceeded earlier expectations. The first is record housing construction, the second high new car sales, the third high consumer spending on dur-

Steel—the problem of demand

The capacity of Britain's steel mills is still ahead of output. What is more, capacity will be steadily increased over the next few years. In April output was at its best for a year. But industrial recovery has still a long way to go to keep our mills as busy as they are designed to be.

Too Conservative

Complete figures for May were not available but were likely to exceed the record month of April which showed the impressive total of $3.7 billion in construction work of all types. By contrast, early government estimates were too conservative in predicting a seven per cent rise this year over the $40 billion spent on construction last year. Seasonally adjusted spending for construction during the third quarter of 1958, at the annual rate of $54.2 billion, about nine per cent over the corresponding period of 1958.

Significantly

The largest residential type of construction, factory building, was up 48 per cent in April from a year ago, while school contracts advanced 15 per cent. All the figures quoted present real gains, analysts said, since cost of building materials only went up some three per cent over the cost of a year ago.

Retail sales of new automobiles at the end of May registered a five per cent gain over the beginning of the month and they were 30 per cent above the end of May figures of last year.

Mid-May car deliveries to dealers set the fastest pace so far this year and exceeded any interval of 1958 except the first third of December.

So far this month, dealers have retained 343,390 cars—this is for the first two-thirds of the month. Total sales for May were expected to top a million for the first time this year.

Spanding

Scars Roebuck statistics, always a good indicator of consumer spending, showed first quarter earnings up 28.3 per cent from the corresponding quarter last year. Sales were up 12.7 per cent, indicating that half the boost in earnings came from volume, the other half from price increases. Most of the sales gains were in the durable goods departments.

Those were some of the developments showing where the steel goes: Machine tool builders reported a pickup in incoming orders in April. New orders in that month totalled $23 million, compared with only $20 million in April last year.

The automobile industry, another huge consumer of steel, reported April sales of $425 million, a gain of 47.5 per cent over April, 1958.

Railroad, too, showed a very good bill of health for April. Their almost unanimous reports of earnings against losses a year ago were a good indicator of economic expansion in the U.S.—UPI.

HONGKONG STOCK EXCHANGE

Business done on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange this morning amounted to approximately $700,000. Noon quotations and the morning's transactions were:

Shares	Buyers	Sellers	Sales
HONGKONG BANK	500	800
East Asia	200
INSURANCE	1200	500	400
Commercial	30
SHIPPING	20
WATERLOO	20
Wheelocks	500	500	1000

DOCKS, ETC.

K. Wharf 90.50

Dock 45.50

President 11.20 11.50 1000 11.20

Takson 35.50 35.75

LAND, ETC.

Yik Hotel 27.00 27.00 2000 27.00

11K Land 35.50 35.75

Murphy's 15.40 15.50

Really 1.50 1.50 1.50

Amalg 2.35 2.45

Amalg 3.10

UTILITIES

Train 28.40 28.70 500 28.50

Star Ferry 110

Yau-mat 107 109 200 107

C. Light (O) 16.10 16.20 100 16.10

Electric 27.30 27.80 500 27.50

Macao E. 10.30 10.50 100 10.40

Telephone 20.40 20.60 200 20.50

Invest 12.60 13

INDUSTRIALS

Cement 31.75 32.50

STONES, ETC.

Food 10.20 10.40

Crew 17.70 18.20 200 18

Textile 0.50 0.50 4000 0.50

Nanyang 8.70 8.90 1000 8.80

MISCELLANEOUS

Vibro 13.10

INVESTMENTS

Int. Invest. 5.80 5.95 1000 5.85

Amalg. & E. 4.40

Invest 12.60 13

QUIET BUYING OF BLUE CHIPS ON WALL STREET

New York, May 31.

Quiet buying in blue chips carried the Dow-Jones industrial average to a record high on the stock market in the past week.

Railroad issues retreated and the utilities rounded out nine straight sessions of decline and broke the string on Friday with a rise of 2/100th's point.

Readjustment

Trading generally slackened and on most days the losses outnumbered gains. Market experts said the list was going through a rolling readjustment apparently in preparation for the traditional summer rally.

Chemicals stood out in the blue chip department. There were days of strength in motor, steel, selected oils, and foods.

The sensations centred in the chemicals group none of which had been in the industrial average. The electrical equipment—also electronics—are represented and they performed in sprightly fashion on Friday.

Firmer Money

Most news favoured the market. Industrial output continued to rise and glowing forecasts were made for the future. The market ignored firmer money reflected in the Federal Reserve System's move toward a general rise in the discount rate from three per cent to 3 1/2 per cent.

Sales for the week totalled 14,872,535, smallest for a full week since Feb. 13. The daily average turnover was 2,074,507 shares. In the previous week sales totalled 15,909,816 shares or a daily average of 2,188,982 shares.

Standard & Poor's composite index of 500 stocks closed the week at a new record high at 58.68, up a mere 0.35 point (or 35 cents a share).

That small gain indicates a rise of only $1,750,000,000 in the value of all listed stocks—UPI.

U.S. EXPORT TRADE TO BE REVIVED

By EDWARD COWAN

Washington, May 31. Government officials are trying to prod American businessmen into helping revive the country's sagging export trade.

Export sales have fallen off sharply, compared to 1957. That year the country exported $19,500,000,000 of non-military goods. Last year the total was only $16,300,000,000.

A Dip

In the first three months of 1959 exports dipped to a rate that would give a total for the year of $15,400,000,000.

One result of the dip has been a flow of gold and dollars out of the United States. Although the drain has additional causes, bolstering exports would help check it.

That's where business men come in. High government officials feel they have ignored foreign markets—or at least paid them too little attention.

Meanwhile, other countries—especially Japan and nations in western Europe—have recovered from their wartime setbacks and looked up to produce goods that compete with American products.

Foreign Cars

A good example is the big sale of foreign cars. Besides cutting into the domestic market, this also means stiff going for American cars abroad.

Officials feel that American manufacturers have been too busy enjoying substantial demand at home that they have failed to make the most of rising incomes and living standards abroad. In some cases, they have in effect quickly surrendered to more aggressive, alert and flexible foreign manufacturers—UPI.

Bank Of France

Statement

Paris, May 31. The Bank of France statement for the week ended May 21, reads as follows:—

Total gold holdings	281,021,215.990 francs
Total foreign currency	11,959,010.221
Significant in ECU	44,402,000.000
Advances to stabilisation	1,200
Banknotes in circulation	1,263,191,004.002
Current accounts and deposits	3,229,731,422.225
	210,021,178.025

Bank Of England

Statement

London, May 31. The Bank of England statement for the week ended May 27, reads as follows:—

Notes in circulation	2,081,209,782 sterling
Public deposits	15,353,003
Private deposits	273,414,922
Other securities	35,108,705
Reserves	226,013,535
	24

Exchange Rates

Business was done in the local unofficial exchange market this morning at the following rates:—

U.S. dollars (per $1) 3.74

Sterling notes (per £1) 15.50

Indonesian rupiah (per Rp. 100) 12.50

Singapore dollars (per S$1) 24.75

Singapore (dollar) 1.01

COTTON FUTURES FINISH LOWER

New York, May 31.

Cotton futures finished on lower ground this past week after making several attempts to stage a rally.

Boom-Like Conditions On London Market

London, May 31.

It has been almost boom-like conditions on the Stock Exchange this past week. Industrial equities closed the week on a record high for the fourth day running and trading this past week has been the heaviest ever. Not even the news of tighter credit in New York sent prices down in London.

By contrast, gilt-edged continued to drift lower. The dullness of the British Government news was the result of a steady dribble of small selling unmatched by the institutional buy. This small selling is the result of the boom in industrial equities and the current unpopularity against small investors of fixed interest stocks.

GREEK ISSUES

In the foreign bonds market Greek issues, after their period of strength on talks of a debt settlement, turned dull on the news from New York that no such settlement was contemplated at present. Most of the previous buying is understood to have been for Greek account as distinct from Greek government support.

Trans-Atlantic stocks have had a mixed appearance during the week and there has been little interest in them in London. Everything seemed to contribute to the boom-like conditions in the industrial equities market this past week and even the heavy settlement on Tuesday of the previous busy fortnightly account failed to dampen the buying.

All the news encouraged the belief in bigger and better and more prosperous times. The Treasury announced that Britain's industrial production had turned upwards in April after remaining at two per cent higher than a year ago.

The automobile industry, machine tools and other auxiliary industries are booming. Food, drink, tobacco, gas, electricity, water, paper and printing are all better than a year ago. These together make up one-fifth of the total output. Textiles, coal, and ships declined. Elsewhere was unchanged.

All this is reflected in stock markets. Brewery shares have been a feature this past week after industrialist and property magnate Charles Clore offered to take over Watney Mann Britain's biggest brewers. The offer was summarily rejected by directors but Mr. Clore has never failed yet in his takeover bids. The great activity in Watney shares and other brewery shares was partly responsible for the soaring index this past week. Property shares and insurance have all had an excellent week. Elsewhere plus signs were almost the rule.

It has been a buoyant week in the South African gold share market and the Financial Times index stood on Friday at 94.2, its highest since October 1955. Almost every section of the Kaif market has found buyers and shortage of stock is now becoming apparent, particularly in some of the older dividend-paying mines which buyers have been from South Africa helped by American interests. Oils have been unsettled and the market quiet—UPI.

STREAMLINE FILTERS LTD.
FILTERS FOR OIL PURIFICATION
ENGINEERING EQUIPMENT CO. LTD.
R.M. & Shanghai Bank Bldg. Tel. 27789

CHINA MAIL

SHEAFFER'S
NEW HALLMARK
STERLING
SILVER TIP

Page 10

MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1959.

Stabbing Trial MAN PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO MURDER

A 40-year-old man killed a woman by stabbing her more than 60 times with a screwdriver, the Supreme Court was told today.

Mr D. Rea, Crown Counsel, was outlining the case against Ng Yim, unemployed, who pleaded not guilty to murdering Yau Man-wan in Foo Mei New Village on November 26 last year.

The hearing is before Mr Justice J. H. Grogg. Mr Rea told the court the dead woman had lived in Hut 81 in the village with her husband and three children. Ng lived in Hut 97, and was on friendly terms with Yau.

Fire Outside
"About 3 a.m. on November 26 last year," said Mr Rea, "there was a fire outside Hut 81."

"You was inside with her children. It was later discovered that the fire was caused by a kerosene-soaked pillow outside the door. Neighbours managed to put out the fire, but it was discovered that a nail had been placed in the padlock on the door which prevented the inmates from leaving."

Mr Rea said Yau had saved her children by pushing them through a window. She had remained inside until the fire was put out. "Later Ng entered the hut, and after speaking to her, grabbed her by the hair and started stabbing her with a screwdriver," said Mr Rea.

"He dragged her out of the hut and up the hill. Evidence will show that she must have collapsed by the time they reached the next hut. She had been stabbed more than 60 times."

Picked Up Body
"After the attack, which was seen by a number of people, it would appear that Ng picked up her body and took it down the hill. At the

FASHIONS TO BE FLOWN TO COLONY

Dresses from fashion houses in Amsterdam and Munich, are being flown out to Hongkong for the International Fashion show to be presented by the English-speaking members department of the YWCA, on June 25.

The show has been organised for local charity. Miss Barbara Black, daughter of the Governor, Sir Robert Black, will head a number of attractive young models who will display stylish garments suitable for travel on the Qantas-Done Kangaroo Route around the world. Ladies of the Consular Corps are arranging for groups of visitors in national and modern dresses to meet the travelling models at each airport in the itinerary.

Mrs J. Zwan has arranged for gowns to be sent out by a leading fashion house in Holland, and Mrs E. Terloof, is having Bavarian garments specially made for the charity show.

Mrs H. Heilmeyer presided at the meeting of members and models held in the YWCA this morning.

Oil Man Going To Sumatra

Mr Kenneth L. Atwood, petroleum engineer of Standard Vacuum Oil Company, arrived with his wife and three children in the ss President Hoover this morning from the United States en route to Sumatra to take up his post. The Atwoods will leave for Indonesia in the rms Carthage on Friday.

Mr Gavin Pearce

Mr Gavin Pearce, son of Mr T. G. N. Pearce, Managing Director of the South China Morning Post Ltd, and Mrs Pearce, arrived from England this morning to join his parents.

To Visit The United States

Mr & Mrs Henry Corra, Proprietors of Filmo Depot Ltd, and Producers of "Corrascope Films," left the Colony today by P.A.A. for the United States and Europe.

They are going first to Chicago to review the new products of Bell & Howell Co—a firm they have represented for 30 years.

They will then proceed to Europe to conclude agreements with several countries who have applied to distribute "Corrascope Films."

Death Of Old Resident

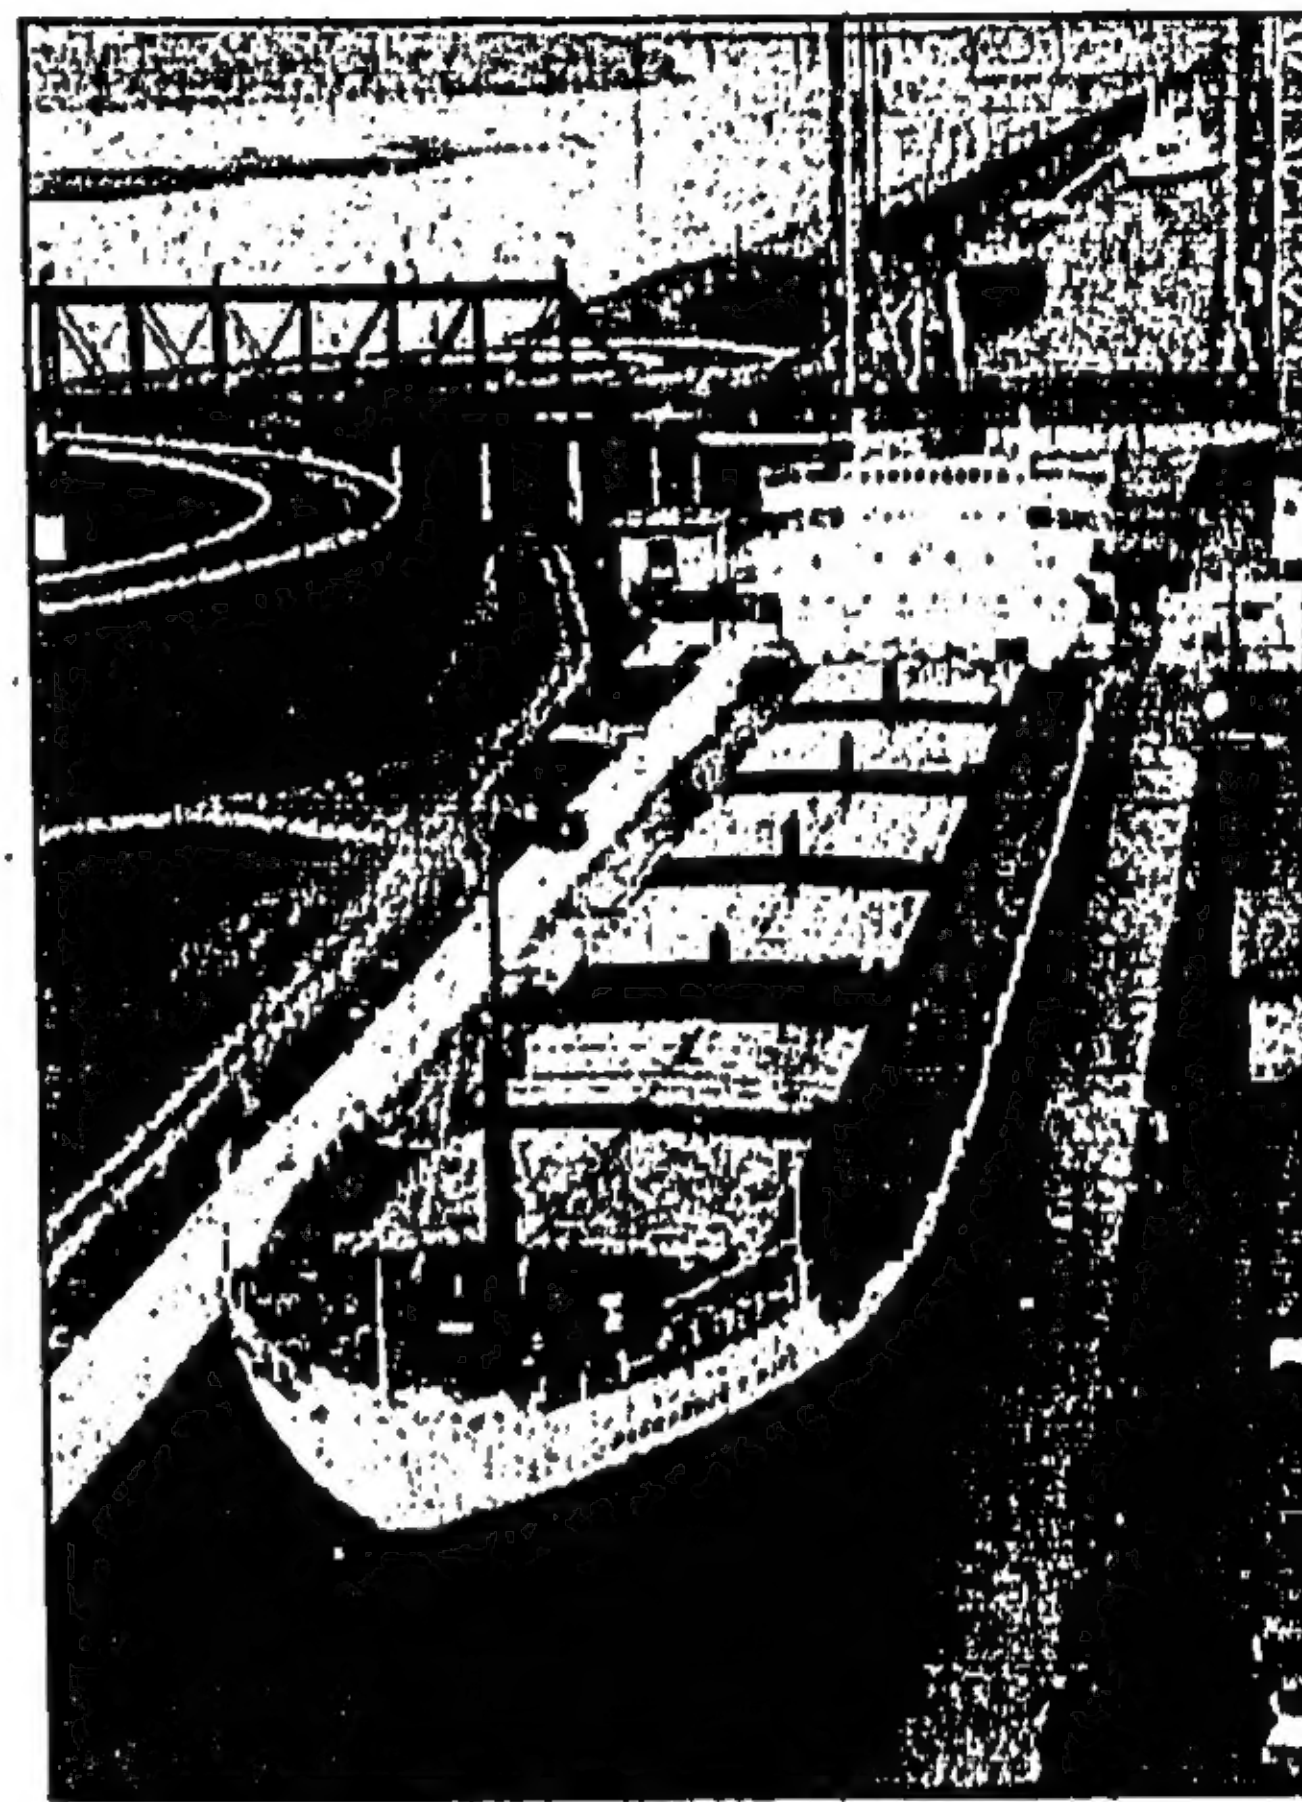

Mr John Ditley Dewhurst, a well known Hongkong resident and formerly of North China, died here yesterday.

He was a popular member of the Sports Club and the Kowloon Bowling Green Club. The funeral will take place tomorrow, the cortege passing the Monument at 5 p.m.

ABOVE—"Once More, With Feeling" the New York comedy hit is being filmed in Paris with Yul Brynner and Kay Kendall in the leading parts. Picture shows Brynner in a scene from "Once More, With Feeling."—Express Photo.

PICTORIAL PARADE

RIGHT—The cargo ship Alexander T. Wood, registered in London, built in Canada, tied up in the St Lawrence Lock, entrance to the St Lawrence Seaway, and sets a record as the biggest ship yet to pass through the new waterway.—Express Photo.

RIGHT—One of the oldest Christian communities in the world, the Coptic of Egypt, enthroned a new Pope in Cairo's St Mark's Cathedral. With all the splendour of ancient ceremony, 57-year-old Archbishop Mina took his place on the throne which has been occupied by 116 of his predecessors since the martyrdom of St Mark in 68 AD.

Picture shows: In his resplendent robes, a once simple monk becomes head of a community that ranks with the Greek Orthodox and Roman Catholic churches as the oldest in Christendom. — Express Photo.

LEFT—With the air of a connoisseur, the Queen smells a rose presented to her by Mr Harry Wheatcroft during her tour of Chelsea Flower Show in the grounds of the Royal Hospital, London.—Reutersphoto.

From the Files

25 years AGO

FOKIS fled in terror from a moaning ghost in a bakery shop in Wellington Street last night. The apparition had neither head nor legs, frightened little boys told police officers who investigated.

A Morning Post reporter, on his round of calls last night, was attracted by the excitement outside the shop.

A crowd of men and children was gathered there and the bravest among them had their faces close to the grilled doorway.

Later Police investigated and could see nothing, though they did hear a peculiar moaning noise.

Curiously enough, a man hanged himself under the stairway of the place a year ago.

Mr E. R. Collier, popular British member of the Chinese Maritime Customs Service and a fairly well-known former Hongkong resident lost his life in Holbow by shooting on Monday in circumstances which are not yet known. He was 32. He served for some time as Transport Officer in Hongkong and officer in charge of the launch, Cheong Keng.

FROM the SCM Post's 25 years ago: "With the site, buildings and four-fifths of the necessary endowment fund assured, the prospects of the establishment of a university for Hongkong on the lines of those so successfully conducted at Leeds and Birmingham are exceedingly bright."

"The practical sympathy of the Viceroy of Canton in providing the munificent sum of $200,000 has been welcomed in every circle, which recognise the advantages that will accrue to the Chinese from the establishment of such an institution. There are few who would not avoid the anxiety of long separation and gladly save burdensome expense if they had a suitable institution here to which they could send their sons."

"The University will be open to all classes of the community. It is not for the Chinese alone that it has been devised. Yet beyond the lavish generosity of the patron of the scheme and of one great British firm, we have heard of no other European donations to the fund."

A dinner party, which will perform the function of a farewell party to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Jenkins, will be given by the Governor at Mountain Lodge on June 29.

Paquerette's treasures of sheer enchantment in NO-IRON Petal-glo

the perfect bedtime fashions for dreaming in luxurious "Petal-glo" a silky batiste blend of daeron, nylon and combed cotton

gentle enough to kiss you good-night, carefree enough to wash in a wink,
drip-dry and never be ironed.

"Goddess" waltz gown with flowing Grecian lines, artfully sculptured through the bodice with two-toned self-fabric braid.

Many other exciting styles as well exclusively at

Paquerette's

16a Des Voeux Rd.

Tel: 21-157

Opposition To Exemption

One of the biggest exemption cases in the Colony opened in the Supreme Court this morning when 253 residents of Nos. 7-19 Pitt Street, Hongkong, opposed the application for exemption by Wai Tak Land Investment Co. Ltd.

The really company are applying for exemption of the old premises in order to replace them with a nine-storeyed building at a cost of $700,000. The hearing before Mr J. H. G. Way sitting as chairman of the Tribunal together with Mr Alex T. Dow, and Mr Frank Grose, is proceeding.

Liaison Officer

Colonel Jack G. Cornett, of the United States Army, arrived with his wife and four children from San Francisco in the ss "President" Hoover this morning en route to Singapore to take up the post as Army Liaison Officer there. He will leave for Singapore in the Strait Mozambique on June 10.

YOUTH STOLE 34 WATCHES

A 19-year-old youth, who stole 34 wrist watches, a quantity of valuables and $900 from a friend of his, and then made a "grand tour" of pawn shops to pledge the stolen property, was remanded for seven days by Judge A. A. Huggins in the Kowloon District Court this morning.

The youth, Ho Kim-fan, was arrested a month after the offence when the Police traced a number of watches to him. He had given the watches as a present to one of his friends who had helped him pawn some of the stolen goods.

This morning in court, Ho pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny in a dwelling house.

Chief Inspector T. W. Wheeler, said the defendant had made a wax impression of the key to a drawer in which his friend, a broker, kept his watches and fountain pens.

On April 23, the accused broke into his friend's house and stole the contents of the drawer. At that time the broker was spending his holidays in the New Territories.

While the Police were making enquiries into another case, they arrested a man on May 6. On searching the man they had arrested, they found he had several wrist watches in his possession. It was through these watches that the Police were able to trace and arrest the defendant.

In court, Ho said he had stolen the watches to realise enough money to return to the mainland to continue his studies. Judge Huggins remanded him for seven days pending a report from the Commissioner of Prisons as to his suitability for corrective training.

Printed and published by TANNER GORDON NEWLANDS FRANKS for and on behalf of South China Morning Post Limited at 1-3 Wyndham Street, City of Victoria in the Colony of Hongkong.